Ulster Elects County GOP Slate, Resnick

Rolison Named to 38th Seat; Wilson Returned

A Republican sweep—with the exception of two key offices—Representative of the 28th Congressional District and state comptroller—went into the records of Ulster County officialdom on Tuesday, according to incomplete unofficial returns.

Figures available covered upwards of 90 of the county's 108 districts.

Returns were slow in many districts of the county, as they were throughout the state. Many blamed the confusion that resulted on the use of the stamp-size paper slips provided for the election of Constitutional Delegates-at-large.

Many voters were moved to the point of disgust by delays and passed up their chance to vote for the delegates-at-large. Others felt the election of the convention delegates and the proposition and a dozen amendments, should have been put before the voters at a special election.

Incumbent Joseph Y. Resnick (Ellenville-D) will return to Washington as a sophomore Congressman as the result of his defeat of Republican Hamilton Fish Jr., of Millbrook.

Jay P. Rolison Jr., of Poughkeepsie, was among Republicans who were victorious in yesterday's voting. He was elected State Senator of the 38th District, defeating three opponents.

Levitt Wins

Arthur Levitt (D) was re-elected for another term as State Comptroller by an unofficial margin of about 4,000, with several districts missing in the county.

Congressman Resnick scored a victory in the district over Fish despite an incomplete, unofficial vote in Ulster County of 24,305, which was a combined Democrat-Liberal vote. Fish polled 24,576, according to incomplete returns. The final vote for Jean Hervey, Conservative, and Eric Lindblom, Voters for Peace Party candidates was not available today.

The unofficial Resnick-Fish vote for the 28th Congressional District shows Resnick won in Columbia, Ulster and Dutchess counties. The vote in that order: Columbia—10,001 - 9,884; Ulster—24,305 - 24,576; Dutchess—37,735 - 29,938.

Fish also took Greene and Schoharie Counties it was reported. The vote in Greene was Resnick 4,754, Fish 5,648; Schoharie—Resnick 4,569, Fish—5,374. Incomplete totals—Resnick 81,364; Fish 75,398.

90 Districts In

With upwards of 90 districts in the county reporting unofficial figures, Rolison polled 23,078; Horace S. Graham, (D-Poughkeepsie) 16,380; Joseph A. Marvella, (L) 1,367 and Frank E. Becker, Conservative, 2,003.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson (R) was re-elected. His vote in Ulster based on incomplete returns was 23,069. His Democratic opponent, George Majestic, Gardiner, received 16,547 with 28 districts missing. Mabel Chapman, (L) polled 1,193 and Bernard Singer (C) Kingston received 2,500.

Albert A. Spada (R) was elected Ulster County clerk. The vote in that contest was unofficially reported as: Spada 22,875; Robert D. Mitchell Jr., (D) 13,362; Donald J. Short (Lib) 1,127; Jean C. Rickard (Cons.) 1,538.

Coroner William S. Keyser

With the 30 contested races already decided, only two races still remaining unsettled. The Senate lineup stood at 64-34 Democratic. It was 67-33 in the 89th Congress which adjourned last month.

Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke was the Negro victor in one of the nation's most closely watched Senate races. He will be the first member of his race to serve in the Senate since Reconstruction days.

Legislature Keeps That Split Look

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Pared in size by reapportionment, the New York State Legislature emerged from election tests today with no change in its politically split personality.

As indicated by most pre-election forecasts, Republicans maintained their majority grip in the Senate, while Democrats kept command of the Assembly.

The outcome of the statewide election, including Gov. Rockefeller's powerful victory over Democrat Frank D. O'Connor, set the stage for another legislative session of battling and compromises.

Few Surprises

With returns still trickling in, the GOP laid claim to at least 31 of the 57 Senate seats. The Democratic camp claimed victory in 80 of the 150 Assembly contests. Republicans conceded a Democratic victory in the larger house.

A majority of 76 seats is required to control the Assembly and a total of 29 seats is needed for command of the Senate.

There were few surprises generally in the legislative races and all of the leaders in the Senate and Assembly won re-election easily. Headed for a new year at the helms are Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges, Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki, Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia and Assembly Minority Leader Perry B. Duryea Jr.

Some of the most closely watched battles attracted interest because they involved controversial issues or pitted incumbents against each other as a result of legislative redistricting.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took a new lease on political life today, his career renewed by a smashing re-election victory over Democrat Frank D. O'Connor.

Rebuffed in his 1964 bid for his party's presidential nomination, the 58-year-old Republican renounced further White House ambitions but fought for a third term in the governor's mansion. Prospect looked dismal early this year because of tax increases and other actions that eroded his popularity, but Rockefeller picked himself up off the floor and launched an all-out campaign.

It paid off Tuesday night with a 400,000-plurality victory over O'Connor, the career politician son of Irish immigrants who serves as New York City Council president.

Rockefeller, obviously relieved by the decisiveness of the outcome, pronounced his triumph "very gratifying." O'Connor described himself as "bloody but unbowed."

Dealing with a crowded ballot, the record turnout of six million voters picked and chose among candidates and issues — with these results:

Levitt, Lefkowitz Victorious

Democratic state Comptroller Arthur Levitt and Republican Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz were re-elected with ease. Levitt's margin was 2-1.

Republicans posted a net gain of one in the state's 41-member delegation to Congress, scoring an upset victory over the entrenched Democratic machine in Albany. The seven freshmen Democrats elected in the 1964 Johnson landslide fend off GOP challengers, preserving the Democrats' wide margin in the delegation. The spread now is 26-15.

Legislature Still Split

The divided political complexion of the state Legislature was retained with Republicans maintaining their majority grip in the Senate, while Democrats kept command of the assembly. A constitutional provision that banned lotteries in New York for 144 years was wiped out as the state's voters approved an amendment authorizing the creation of a state-operated lottery.

The amendment leaves the details of establishing and operation of a lottery to the Legislature. Profits from a state lottery would be earmarked for education.

Control of the 1967 state Constitutional Convention was in doubt. The Democrat-Liberal slate of delegates at large was leading the field, but returns were slow on the district-delegate races.

A prominent casualty of Tuesday's election was Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., who entered the race for governor as the Liberal party nominee. The Liberals denied their nomination to O'Connor, ending a 20-year prac-

Electorate Votes Big Yes On Lottery for New York

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A constitutional provision that banned lotteries in New York for 144 years was wiped out Tuesday as the state's voters approved an amendment authorizing the creation of a state-operated lottery.

The amendment leaves the details of establishing and operating a lottery to the Legislature.

With three-fourths of New York's 13-170 districts reported, the vote on the lottery amendment was: Yes — 1,634,049; No — 999,331.

The proposal drew heavy support from New York City, where it passed by a 3-to-1 margin.

The lottery measure was among 11 proposals to change the Constitution and one proposition which went before the voters Tuesday.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, re-elected to a third term Tuesday, has criticized the lottery plan as a "regressive" action which would prey upon the state's poor. He would not align himself against the lottery during his campaign for re-election nor would he endorse it.

As governor he could veto any lottery bill which did not

Fitzsimmons Aims Word On Controversial Case

Joseph Fitzsimmons, Ulster County Welfare Commissioner issued the following statement today:

"The past few days have been difficult ones for the members of this department.

"Numerous accusations of wrongdoing have been made and yet I could not respond, because certain matters processed through the department are entitled to a high degree of confidentiality; among these matters are those involving infants whose custody has been duly surrendered to me as Commissioner of Public Welfare.

"On Monday of this week I and members of my staff conferred in Albany with George K. Wyman, State Commissioner of Social Welfare, at which time I was assured by Commissioner Wyman and his General Counsel

Felix Fausto that the facts and information available to me concerning an infant heretofore placed in the Boarding Home maintained by Mr. and Mrs. Michael Liuni fully supported the determination that the said infant be removed from the Liuni Boarding Home and placed for adoption. Commissioner Wyman and his counsel clearly indicated that in their opinion this department had acted in good faith and exercised its discretion in a fair and correct way and that my local determination concerning the best interests of the child was in accordance with state law and those guide lines within which adoption procedures are to be processed.

"My first obligation, both legal and moral, is for the little girl legally surrendered to me as Commissioner. My heart is with her and her family. (Continued on Page 30, Col. 1)

Levitt, Resnick Cut GOP Sweep in City

Time consuming confusion marked Tuesday's election here as it did throughout the state and when the long count ended voting favored the Rockefeller-Wilson gubernatorial ticket along with county Republican candidates, but the voters backed two major Democratic candidates with flourish.

Based on unofficial returns as received at police headquarters (finally at 3:20 a. m. today in total) the Rockefeller-Wilson ticket was backed in the city by a 742-vote lead, but Comptroller Arthur Levitt, Democrat, by dint of Liberal Party votes won here by 1,190 votes and Congressman

Joseph Y. Resnick, also with Liberal Party help, gained a lead of 1,152 votes.

1962 Lead Cut

The Rockefeller-Wilson ticket in 1962 drew a city lead of 1,601 votes. In that year, however, the city had 1,144 more voters registered than the 11,815 reported this year.

The Tuesday vote for governor was: Rockefeller-Wilson (R) 5,153; O'Connor-Samuels (D) 4,413; Roosevelt-Harrington (Lib) 721; Adams-Dougherty (Cons) 504; Herder-Bullantine (Soc-Lab) 15; and White Gorza (Soc-Worker) 4. The four lesser parties drew 1,244 votes from major candidates.

Much confusion existed in the city as well as elsewhere in the state as to how to tabulate the vote for delegates-at-large to the State Constitutional Convention. Returns varied drastically in city districts, mainly because of the method used for the choosing of delegates, and latest returns were from the 12th Ward's second district, which came in some six hours after closing of polls.

In the unofficial plurality scored for Resnick in the city he polled 5,445 Democratic and 464 Liberal votes for a total of 5,909 against 4,757 for Republican Hamilton Fish Jr. Other votes were 195 for Jean Hervey, Conservative and 91 for Lindblom, Peace Party candidate.

Wilson Is Winner

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson won in the city over his Democratic opponent George Majestic by 502 Votes. The totals were 5,003 and 4,501. Other votes for the office were: Mabel Chapman (Lib) 320 and Bernard Singer (Cons) 680.

In the gubernatorial year of 1962 Wilson won over Majestic in the city vote of 6,232 to 4,757.

Brooke Paces Republican Gain of 2, Lead in Third

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have gained two new Senate seats and have scored a dramatic triumph by electing the first Negro ever chosen for the body by popular vote.

They appeared on their way to capturing a third seat from the Democrats in Oregon where Gov. Mark O. Hatfield maintained a lead over Rep. Robert B. Duncan with 81 per cent of the votes counted.

The Democrats easily retained control of the Senate in Tuesday's voting but, despite high hopes in several states, failed to unseat a single Republican in the 30 contested races already decided.

With only two races still remaining unsettled, the Senate lineup stood at 64-34 Democratic. It was 67-33 in the 89th Congress which adjourned last month.

Reagan Tops Dazzling Individual GOP Wins; May Gain 45 in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paced by actor Ronald Reagan's election as California governor, Republicans won spectacular individual victories across the nation in Tuesday's balloting while making inroads into the Democrats' control of Congress.

While Reagan was inundating Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown in California, a new GOP star was rising in industrialist Charles H. Percy's trouncing of veteran Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas in Illinois.

In Michigan, Gov. George Romney barged into the 1968 national contention with a landslide third-term victory which swept GOP Sen. Robert P. Griffin and the party's state slate into office.

Edward W. Brooke claimed a voice in GOP councils by getting elected in Massachusetts as the first Negro ever chosen by popular vote as a member of the Senate.

In Tennessee youthful Howard H. Baker Jr. won a seat in the flock shepherded by his father-in-law, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

President Johnson's home state of Texas sent GOP Sen. John G. Tower back for another six-year term in the Senate. Texas also joined in contributing the Republican resurgence in the House by electing two GOP members to break the previously solid Democratic delegation.

Robert Taft Jr., seeking a comeback to Congress after being defeated for the Senate two years ago in the Goldwater debacle, held a slim lead over his Democratic opponent, Rep. John J. Gilligan with two-thirds of the vote counted in Ohio's 1st District.

There were stunning GOP gubernatorial victories for Winthrop Rockefeller in Arkansas and for Claude Kirk Jr. in Florida. Since Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller won re-election in New York, future governors' conferences will have a brother act for the first time in memory.

Democrats, with holdover majorities from their 1964 landslide, retained top-heavy numerical control of both houses of Congress.

But a Republican gain which could reach 45 seats — 33 were pulled down — threatened to change the political atmosphere of the new House, boding ill for future "Great Society" proposals of President Johnson. Gone would be the current Democratic majority of 295 to 140 (Continued on Page 40, Col. 4)

Area Principals Attend Albany Seminar Nov. 6-7

Three area educators, one from MJM Junior High School, one from Ontario High School and one from KHS attended the 82nd annual conference of the New York State Association of Secondary School Administrators in Albany Sunday and Monday.

The theme of the conference was Education - Gateway to Man's Destiny. Attending from the local area were Edward S. Witko, principal at Ontario and Peter A. Icalcaterra and William Scafidi, vice principals of MJM and Kingston High, respectively.

Major speakers were Dr. Harold Taylor, educator, Author, director of International Education Project for American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, who keynoted on The Reconstruction of Education, and Charles (Bud) Wilkinson, president, Lifetime Sports Foundation, former athletic director and head football coach at Oklahoma University and former consultant to the President on physical fitness, who addressed the banquet on Nov. 7 on the subject, Quality Physical Education - A School Responsibility.

Special seminars were held on Education for the Development of the Individual, Education as a Social Force, Education for Technology and Education for Intercultural Relations.

A number of workshops were conducted at the conference to give principals an opportunity to analyze their problems on such topics as data processing, the middle school, flexible scheduling, supervision, administration, curriculum, teacher growth, guidance and counseling, team teaching, discipline and morale, the library, resource center, college admissions and improving the teaching of reading. Over 1,400 have registered for the conference.

Mrs. Herring Will Interview For Michigan U.

University of Michigan social scientists are beginning a major study concerned with the voting behavior and public opinion in Tuesday's election. Among the many interviewers across the nation will be Mrs. Walter Herring of Ulster Park, who will conduct interviews in Kingston and Ulster County.

The 1966 election study represents the ninth in a series of studies of presidential and congressional elections initiated in 1948. The results of these studies have been published in The Voter Decides, Group Differences in Attitudes and Votes, The American Voter, and Elections and the Political Order as well as numerous journals, magazines and periodicals.

In addition to the political questions the interviewers will be seeking information from consumers about their views of recent economic trends and their plans to purchase various items. The Survey Research Center is a division of the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research. It maintains a staff of trained interviewers in 76 areas located within 36 of the American states and Washington, D. C. These interviewers will be contacting respondents at about 1,600 addresses, including some in this area, which are scientifically chosen to provide an accurate cross-section of the opinions of the American people.

Results of the interviews, never identified with any individual person or address, will be coded, analyzed, and published in a statistical report. These reports are of great value to government officials, businessmen, economists and educators who seek a better understanding of the conditions and ideas existing in the United States today.

Results Still Incomplete On Constitutional Delegates

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The battle for control of the State Constitutional Convention next year emerged today as the closest fight in Tuesday's statewide election.

With about three-fourths of the districts reported, it appeared that at least 13 candidates with dual Democrat and Liberal party endorsement would gain seats as delegates-at-large.

Were Deadlocked

The remaining two delegate-at-large posts, however, were virtually deadlocked among five candidates—two with joint Republican-Liberal backing and three that have the support of both the Republican and Conservative parties.

Many of the races for district delegate had not been reported early today, leaving further doubt over which party will control the convention that begins next April 4.

Generally, Republican candidates for district delegates—three from each of the state's 57 senatorial districts—were running ahead in districts that are represented by GOP senators. The same rule applied to districts represented by Democratic senators.

Unofficial returns from 9,253 of the state's 13,170 election districts showed combined Democrat-Liberal totals for delegate-at-large of 1,907,310.

Totals Listed

The three candidates for delegate-at-large with dual Republican-Conservative endorsement had 1,787,005 votes in the unofficial tally and the two candidates for delegate at large with Republican-Liberal backing had 1,776,357.

The unofficial vote for the 15-member delegate-at-large slate for each party was Republican, 1,533,649; Democrat, 1,664,602; Liberal, 242,708, and Conservative, 253,356.

None of the unofficial tallies reflected write-in votes and thus the 10,648 gap between the Republican-Liberal totals became publican-Conservative and Republican-Liberal totals.

Control is important because the delegates will shape a Constitution that will play a key part in future political decisions.

U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits and J. Lee Rankin had Republican-Liberal backing. The Conservative-Liberal endorsement were for former Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore, William Bensley of Lakeville and Amory Houghton of Corning.

Wagner Leading

Leading the 13 candidates was former New York City Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

Tallying the vote was especially difficult because of the system used if a voter wished to split his slate vote for delegate-at-large.

Among the winners for district delegate were several legislative leaders, including Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges, a Republican and Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia, the Legislature's top Democrat.

A one-time legislative power, former GOP Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino, apparently was defeated in his bid for a district delegate spot.

Carlino Trailing

The unofficial tally showed Carlino in the fourth spot in the 7th District in Nassau County, trailing the No. 3 candidate by 404 votes.

Other unofficial winners included Charles S. Desmond, chief judge of the Court of Appeals, who had the support of both the Republican and Democrat parties in the 56th District in Buffalo. Desmond is retiring from the bench at the end of this year.

Assembly Minority Leader Perry B. Durvea was an unofficial victor and another GOP power, State Sen. John H. Hughes of Syracuse, also scored a victory.

Associate Judge Francis Bergan of the Court of Appeals was another unofficial victor.

The Constitutional Convention will be the ninth in the state's history. The original document was drawn up in 1777 and since its last major revision in 1894 has been amended 162 times.

Members will be paid $15,000, plus a $3,000 expense allowance—the same amount granted legislators. A legislator-delegate will receive a dual salary—$30,000.

The delegates will submit their recommendations to the voters.

In the last convention, held in 1938, delegates convened April 5 and adjourned Aug. 26.

The delegates submitted nine proposed revisions and the voters approved six of the recommendations.

PERIL IN THE WOODS

A short while before arrival of the season to be jolly there comes the season of folly. By which is meant the time when multitudes push their way through forest and thicket in pursuit of the elusive deer.

Deer hunting is not folly in itself. But folly is rampant when a lot of men and boys, many of whom know little more about a gun than which way to point it and what to pull to make it go "bang!", invade the countryside.

Anyone who doubts this has only to consult the statistics. Carelessness and ineptitude and plain damn foolishness send many a hunter to Kingdom Come and put plenty of others in the hospital every deer season.

The elements that bring this about are simple but deadly. A rifle that can bring down a deer can kill a man—a mile or so away, even if a stray bullet gets that far through the trees. Visibility is seldom good in country where deer lurk, and buck fever makes anything that moves look like fair game. Compound all this with common failure to abide by the simple rules of gun handling: Safety on until you're set to shoot, don't aim at anything you don't intend to shoot, make sure no one is in the line of fire, and so on. The result is a potentially lethal mixture.

Pointing out the danger is easy. Recommending effective ways to minimize the danger is something else again. But one thing can be said: No one should take to the field without a thorough grounding in safety. If all hunters followed sensible rules about gun handling, those deer season statistics wouldn't look half so grim.

NOW: UFOS IN ORBIT

Well, now, here is an intriguing morsel of news: there are, according to an unimpeachable source, three unidentified objects orbiting the earth. These hurtling objects have not been identified "with any launching or country of origin." The words are from the latest issue of the Satellite Situation Report, which is published by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

What this boils down to is that America's space experts say they don't know what these satellites are, nor where they came from. They do indicate that, if man-made, the satellites are not Russian, but probably of French or American origin. Their launch angle, it seems, virtually rule out the Soviet Union.

A couple of other possibilities remain. The objects may be nothing more sensational than natural meteoroids or debris from man-made satellites. Or they may—and this is what will titillate the unidentified Flying Object speculators anew—be visitants from elsewhere in the universe.

Peering at man and all his works, perhaps, revolving about our little globe with who knows what intent. Doesn't it send chills up and down the spine, though?

Pressure for West German Chancellor Erhard's resignation mounts. But it's hard to push around a man with a figure like that.

ZEROING IN ON MEASLES

Everyone, practically speaking, has a childhood bout with measles. This has resulted in the disease becoming a prime cause of familiarity breeding contempt. Measles is no joking matter, however. Not a few of its victims, down through the centuries and to this day, have been left mentally retarded.

This gives particular reason for strong popular support of the U.S. Public Health Service campaign, just being launched, to eradicate measles in this country. Surgeon General William H. Stewart believes that through use of vaccines licensed within the past few years we could "achieve the eradication of measles from the United States in 1967." That is a goal worth working hard to attain.

The Public Health Service plans a four-pronged attack during the winter and spring. It will aim at immunization of all children at age one; immunization on entry into school of all children not previously vaccinated; the recording of all measles

SHRIVER BATTLES OPERATION EROSION

Poor Sargent Shriver's Office of Economic Opportunity is suddenly getting it from all sides. The Republicans, naturally enough, have been assailing it for waste and bungling, but Shriver has shrugged this off as something to be expected in an election year. The greater menace to Shriver's future comes from two other sources. One of these is the gang of hungry bureaucrats in his own Democratic Party who want to take over his programs for their own "empires" in the Department of Labor and the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The second source is the legal profession in the state of Florida, where a number of county bar associations are attacking the Office of Economic Opportunity's free legal services program, known as "adjudicare," on grounds that it is flagrantly unconstitutional.

The flare-up against Mr. Shriver's attempt to establish federally run neighborhood law offices for the benefit of people who can't afford to hire their own lawyers began in Florida's Orange County where an Orlando and Winter Park attorney, Russell Troutman, brought suit against Shriver and the U.S. government for usurping a power that has not been specifically delegated to the OEO agency by Congress. According to Mr. Troutman, if Mr. Shriver can subsidize local law offices under the guise of "fighting poverty," there is nothing to stop him from setting up dental offices, or grocery stores, or gasoline stations, or newspapers, on the ground that poor people must have free access to all these services. Carried out to the logical extreme, under this reasoning the OEO could have established Medicare without putting Lyndon Johnson to the trouble of getting a Medicare bill passed.

According to lawyer Troutman, the action of Sargent Shriver in setting up a country-wide legal service for the poor comes under the heading of "unbridled discretion." Some $26 million in tax money has been laid out by the OEO for legal services without getting a preliminary okay from the representatives of the people in Congress.

The Shriver office has countered the Troutman suit by asking that it be dismissed on the technical ground that the plaintiff has no "capacity" to bring a complaint. It seems that the action, in Orange County, was "premature," for the OEO had not yet gotten around to organizing any free legal services in that part of Florida.

But if Troutman has no valid complaint in his own central Florida bailiwick, his stint has picked up support in other parts of the State where the OEO is already in the business of supplying free legal services. Philip Nourse, the head of the bar association of St. Lucie County, with headquarters at Fort Pierce, has joined Mr. Troutman in his action. St. Lucie happens to have a Shriver free legal service operation in full bloom. The Seminole County bar association has also joined with Troutman in offering as a co-plaintiff with Mr. Troutman.

Back in the Nineteen Thirties, some of the early New Deal programs were invalidated because no specific delegation of Congressional power could be cited to support them. The New Deal Administration quickly repaired the damage by drawing up new support legislation, particularly in agriculture, that could meet Supreme Court specifications regarding delegation of authority. In the intellectual climate of the Great Society, it is, of course, a question whether Mr. Troutman's complaint will ever reach the Supreme Court. But with his own side gunning for him, Sargent Shriver could be deprived of the funds needed to subsidize federal competition with local legal services.

When Congress reassembles, the drive to force "spin-offs" from the Sargent Shriver empire will surely pick up renewed steam. With idealists such as lawyer Russell Troutman attacking him for noble constitutional reasons, and with competing bureaucrats trying to chisel OEO functions away from him for cynical reasons of self-aggrandizement, Mr. Shriver could be in for a tough winter. Research Brings New Hope In Treatment of Arthritis

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The Arthritis Foundation has recently brought two of its pamphlets up-to-date. "Today's Facts About Arthritis" discusses the cause, symptoms, diagnosis and treatment of rheumatoid arthritis (the crippling kind) and osteoarthritis with a brief mention of gouty arthritis and several less common varieties. The pamphlet on rheumatoid arthritis covers this disease in somewhat greater detail.

In both pamphlets great emphasis is placed on the fact that this disease is hopeless and that the outlook is constantly getting brighter with the discovery of new methods of treatment.

The foundation also has pamphlets on diet and rheumatoid arthritis in children. Any of these can be obtained free either from local chapters in 79 arthritis, on home care for the arthritic and on major cities in this country or by writing to the Arthritis Foundation, Box 2525, N.Y. 10001.

Q—Is there such a disease as arthritis of the blood?

A—I know of no arthritis with that name but there is a hemophilic arthritis (seen in hereditary bleeders) and hemoglobin S-C disease (a variant of sickle cell anemia in which there is destruction of the joints of the long bones). Arthritis may also be a complication of various other blood diseases.

Q—Is Indocin a new drug for arthritis? Is it the best?

A—Indomethacin (Indocin) has been available for a little over a year in this country. Whether or not it would be best for you I could not say because one man's cure is another man's curse. This drug, however, has given excellent results in about 80 per cent of the victims of osteoarthritis, rheumatoid arthritis and several other varieties.

In the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis it may be given in place of aspirin in adequate doses. The chief advantages of indomethacin are that, unlike cortisone, it can be taken for prolonged periods and, if such side effects as headache, depression, dizziness or stomach upset occur, they can usually be controlled by reducing the dose. This drug should not be taken by persons who have ulcers of the stomach or intestines.

Q—Is there any value in taking honey and apple cider daily for arthritis?

cases through coordinated effort by local, state and federal health officials, and the tracing of each measles case to its source to guard against spread of the disease.

This program will be the success it could be only if there is cooperation from doctors, school and health officials, and above all the general public. Measles can be made to go the way of smallpox, diphtheria and poliomyelitis if we make good use of the weapons medical research has provided.

Experts recommend ways for the U.N. to get "real value for its money" through better procedure—which would add $135,000 a year to the budget. They took that old saw, "You can't make money without spending money," too seriously.

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent

SAIGON (NEA) — By U. S. military standards, what Ho Chi Minh is now doing makes no sense.

He's throwing major units of his professional mainline armies against better-armed Americans heavily supported by air power. As his units are chewed up, he throws in new ones. He's losing a great many men.

It's unlikely Ho hopes for a major psychological-military victory of the type Gen. Giap won against the French at Dien Bien Phu.

To understand what Ho is up to, it is necessary to go back to Mao Tse-tung's strategic theories of two decades ago. In the Yenan days, Mao's top officers would talk about strategic techniques at length, even to foreigners.

If these theories apply today, Ho's mainline expeditionary forces have three immediate aims:
First — They're out to kill as many U. S. troops as they can. Never mind that the North Vietnamese losses are dreadfully heavy. The aim is to kill Americans; not win battles.

Mao theory is that to cut one unit to pieces, even if you lose the battle, is more impressive psychologically than to win victories over 10 units.

To accomplish this, Ho is willing to accept heavy losses.

Second — Ho's men are out to capture major pieces of U. S. equipment. These will be paraded in hamlets to show that Ho's men can "conquer" the "invincible" U. S. weapons which have impressed so many Asians.

Time after time in the past 25 years both Mao and Ho have willingly sacrificed large numbers of men when necessary to acquire one tank, one armored weapons carrier, a certain type of artillery or some other particularly deadly type of French or American equipment — for show.

Third — Ho's armies are attempting to turn this into a war between the Communist and the American armies, bypassing the Vietnamese army where possible.

This, too, is psychological. Hanoi wants the South Vietnamese to say: "Ho is fighting the Americans, not us. It's an American war, not our war. This war is between the Americans and the Communists. What is it to us?"

Fourth — Ho's men want to impress the people of South Vietnam that whether the Red armies win or lose, they are able to "take on" the Americans.

This thought should, the Mao-Ho theory goes, cause South Vietnamese government troops to be wary about fighting the northern mainline troops "who even fight Americans head on."

It should, according to this theory, cause people to remember that sometime the Americans will go home and then "we will have to make our peace with these strong northern armies."

It is too early to tell how effective these Mao-Ho tactics will be. High-placed Vietnamese army officers with whom this reporter has talked are working on the problem. They don't yet have a solution.

World Studies U. S. Election For Clue to Viet Nam Policy

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — In capitals all over the world, particularly in the foreign offices, the experts are analyzing today their reports on the election results in the United States, trying to determine just what impact the voting for Congress may have on the policy the United States will follow with respect to the Viet Nam war.

Familiar as most of the governments abroad are with the importance of an election involving the members of a national legislature, many officials in other countries do not realize that an American president retains all of his power irrespective of what majority is held in Congress either by his own or a rival party. Thus, President Eisenhower served six out of his eight years with the opposition party in control of both houses.

The big majority given President Johnson when he was elected in 1964 was in the nature of a landslide, and it is natural for the incumbent party to lose some seats in an election held in the mid-term of a president. There will be observers in Europe and Asia, accustomed to parliamentary systems, who will construe the reduction in the Democratic party's majority as a trend toward "a vote of lack of confidence." But this appraisal does not take into account the domestic issues which could also have brought about a smaller margin.

Actually, the sentiment in the United States on the Viet Nam war can hardly be measured by examining the election results this week. For there were many Republicans who during the campaign endorsed the administration's policy in Viet Nam, and there were some in the President's own party who disagreed with it. Unquestionably a majority of the people feel that, when the United States is at war, the fullest support should be given to the President in the conduct of the military operations. The Viet Nam war has produced considerable controversy, but there is only a small minority of the voters who would favor retreat or surrender.

On the whole, most people in America believe that the President is seeking an honorable peace and should continue the war till this is achieved.

Foreign governments, therefore would be making a mistake to construe the election result as in any way a repudiation of the President's policies in Viet Nam. The chances are that now the President will feel free to make a concentrated effort to settle the war or else to intensify military activity in the hope of forcing the enemy to the peace table. Certainly with the election out of the way, the administration has a more flexible hand, and it will not hesitate to take the course which most Americans are demanding — an attainment of the main objectives so that South Viet Nam will not be again the victim of aggression.

The United States will, of course, insist upon an international guarantee that, if American troops are withdrawn, there will be no repetition of the invasion or infiltration from the north by the Communists. It would not be surprising if mediation efforts by foreign governments which have been neutral in the Viet Nam situation would become more pronounced in the near future.

The Communists know that the United States does not intend to do anything that might cause it to lose prestige throughout the world. A settlement has to be achieved that protects South Vietnam and makes possible a withdrawal of troops by the United States. There is a difference of opinion as to what kind of guarantees can be given so that the sacrifices made by American forces will not have been in vain. The controversy over just how the South Vietnamese shall be safeguarded is complicated by the absence of some central authority like the United Nations to set up a system of guarantees.

While the Korean situation has never been entirely solved, peace has been maintained through the auspices of the United Nations, and it would not be surprising if a similar mechanism were agreed upon to settle the Viet Nam war. But with political campaigning in recess for another two years, the president now can make plans either for a peace conference or for an escalated war in Viet Nam. The decision turns on what the Communists decide about entering into peace negotiations. The American people will be behind their president even if there ensues a prolonged war.

Quick Quiz

Q—Has the passenger pigeon become extinct?

A—The last passenger pigeon died in 1914 in the Cincinnati zoo and, by pre-arrangement, was shipped to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C., where it was mounted and placed on exhibit. The last known date one was seen in the wild was in September of 1899.

Q—What monarch had the longest reign in European history?

A—King Louis XIV of France who reigned for 72 years.

Q—What three nations make up the Benelux Union?

A—Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

It was a good bash. Anything that can run through two days without a police raid is worth remembering. Big John was 83, and, as he observed sagely: "A man doesn't hit 83 every day." After the party was over, I began to think it was a good idea not to reach that year too often.

The night before the birthday, he put on a collar and tie. He donned a sports jacket that was cut out of a circus tent. The white hair was neatly parted, the teeth were in rightside up and he left the house looking like the last of the big spenders. The tan skin gleamed. The blue eyes sparkled.

We took him to the Carillon to see a Can Can show. Like a naive boy from Wet Moccasins, Oklahoma, he asked what a Can Can is. I said: "Oh, come on, you remember." He said: "It sounds like two big beers." "It's girls," I said. He shook his head sadly. "Oh God," he murmured. "I remember them."

He ordered shrimp and Vichyssoise and a slab of prime ribs. "Wait a minute," he said to the waiter, "better bring me a rye on the rocks. What's a birthday without a belt in the kisser?" The waiter said: "It's your birthday. How about a double?" "Make it a triple my father said."

He had a couple of those. He could see the Can Can dancers without his glasses. He began to hum through the old French tunes. Hans Reiss brought some wine. My sister Adele said: "This tastes good with the entree." My father said: "It tastes good any old time." He waved his fork happily. "Tell me," he said, "is that dancer wearing anything? I mean, on top?"

My sister looked shocked. My father said: "Don't tell me. Let me see this thing my way." Everything was on the rocks, including my father. When the show was over, he and I left arm-in-arm and he said: "They say that when a man gets old, he forgets that stuff. Funny, I can remember just as plain." The next morning he found that the rocks had moved up into his head. "Oh boy," he said sadly, "it's been a long time since I had one of these. Look," he said, "my hands don't even shake." They had died.

In the afternoon, he made his usual ten-lap pilgrimage around the swimming pool. Then a shower, and the slick hair shone and a photographer came in and made a picture of him cutting a cake, and using an electric backscratcher on our dog, Rocky. "What will they think of next?" he said. "Instant booze?"

Max Lewis arrived to play old songs on the piano, and everybody had a drink. "On the rocks," my father said softly. Then he winked at me. "This time I won't mix it with wine." Fred Sobell came in and my father ordered another to be sociable. In a little while he was smiling at the ladies and uttering witties.

Gayle asked him to open his gifts. For the man who has everything, he received a lot of candy, a desk blotter and a two-foot shoe horn. One of the cards said: "Happy birthday. Just think — six more birthdays and you get the return deposit on your belly-button."

Frank and Ev Sacchetti sang songs with him, and my brother John mixed a few rounds and Dad winked at the ladies and said: "Happy days." Kathy and Karen had baked birthday cakes, so he had to blow the candles out on both. Some were non-extinguishable and he came close to blowing the icing off the cake.

Big John clapped his hands and roared with laughter at anything. "I can't think of one kind thing to say about the good old days," he said to his daughter-in-law Anna. "These are the good old days." He winked again and snapped his fingers. "Happy totsy," he said. He was flying low.

Max played four versions of Happy Birthday to You, and the verses became somewhat risque. I began to think of how long Big John has been retired. He left the police department in 1933. He's been off longer than on. Youngfellows who put the uniform on after my father retired are now retired.

In time the guests left, and Kelly picked up the debris. Everybody was fatigued except my father. "How about you and me going back to that Can Can," he said. Nothing doing, I said. "Hell," he said. "I just want to introduce myself to that Linda Gloria. She's some star."

He went to bed. Lying in the reclining chair, he looked like the ghost of John D. Rockefeller. In the morning, he got up and said: "Which of the mornings is this?" I said it was the third since the party started. "Well," he said, "let me thank all hands for a wonderful time. I mean it. But let's stop the damn thing right here. It's going to take me a year to get ready for the next one."

He'll be ready...

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

Have you ever found it inconvenient to air throw pillows?

Try buying white open-mesh by the yard, and make large sacks or pillow slips big enough for a pillow or two. Then hang the sacks on a line and toss the pillows inside. The air can get through to the pillows easily.

I made several sacks with a double fold at the top for added strength.

I hang the sacks in the shade so the sun won't fade the pillows.

Callie Hutchens

What a fabulous idea!

One could buy cheesecloth (less than twenty cents a yard and very wide) at the hardware or department store, or you could—and I hesitate to mention it!—buy nylon net.

The material has such an open weave that the air could circulate perfectly.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I discovered that my lint roller is the perfect thing to roll along a let out or cut seam with lots of short threads that need to be picked out.

The lint roller picks them up neatly and really saves time.

Margaret Miller

Dear Heloise:

While cleaning out my kitchen cabinets last week, I discovered a wonderful new idea for that one-in-every-kitchen catch all-drawer.

During the summer months, I save those nice, wooden strawberry boxes—then in the winter, I just throw them away!

I decided to cover these wooden boxes with adhesive-backed paper and place them in the drawer, side by side.

In these boxes, I place such items as coasters, rubber bands, freezer tape sticky tape etc.

Now I have an organized drawer with everything in its place, and within sight and easy reach.

Nadean Carter

Dear "Heloise":

How did you say to cook fishsticks to keep them from being soggy on the bottom?

Donald

I wrinkle up a piece of foil, then slightly straighten it out again—leaving it real crinkly so that it looks kind of like a waffle.

When you lay fish sticks on this to bake, both sides of the sticks get crisp at the same time, because the heat gets in the little crinkles. And they never stick!

O. K. &

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I now turn men's and boy's pants wrong side out before putting them in the dryer.

The pockets dry much faster, whereas they used to be the last part of the pants to get dry.

Rosalie T.

Dear Heloise:

If you have overalls for your baby or toddler, and the straps are too long, I have a suggestion.

Instead of moving the buttons up the strap, find two buttons that match, and sew them an inch or so above the buttons that are already on the straps.

As the baby grows, you won't have to remove buttons and sew them on again. Just remove the top button.

Geraldine Godfrey

Dear Heloise:

When using spray paint on small objects, put them in a large paper bag, laid open on its side, and you can safely spray the item without getting paint on half a dozen other things.

BEATLE AT CHOW is John Lennon, carrying his food tray on the set of his new movie, "How I Won the War." Lennon, minus some hair and wearing glasses, has his first straight acting role in the movie.

won a portable TV set. Other prizes awarded were 10 transistor radios to Sue Legler of High Falls; Mary Monahan, Frank Thompson, Stella Kaman, and Joseph Brown of Kingston; Gerald F. Canaday of Saugerties; Mrs. George Ehbar of New Paltz; and Anna DeWitt of Port Ewen. (Powell photo.)

Olean Has First Democrat Mayor In 25 Years

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP)—Harvey Shneiderman, who is only the second Democrat to win the mayor's post here in more than 25 years, takes office today.

The 38-year-old Olean businessman polled 4,106 votes Tuesday against 2,809 for Republican Stuart G. Davis.

A special election was held to fill a vacancy created Oct. 10 when former Mayor Edward R. Husted resigned to become director of the Redevelopment Authority in Bradford, Pa.

Shneiderman, who operates two retail furniture and appliance stores and a realty firm, fills Husted's unexpired term which ends Dec. 31, 1967.

Olive Baptists Hold Dedication

During the regular worship service on Sunday, the Olive-Shokan Baptist Church, West Shokan, dedicated a new baptismal robes.

Lawrence Every, Sunday school superintendent and a deacon, led in the prayer of dedication. The baptismal robes were made by Mrs. Charles Wood, was assisted by Mrs. Harry Jones. Gail Nichols modeled one of the robes during the dedication service. The baptistry was installed by David Barringer, Donald Avery, Lawrence Every, Francis Every, George Burgher, Frank Erueckner, and Leon Faulkner Sr.

At the conclusion of the service, John Schlatterer Sr., John Schlatterer Jr., and Sally Schlatterer were voted into the fellowship of the church by letter from the First Baptist Church, Paramount, Calif., and given the

Voters Reject Genesee Reapport

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP)—Voters rejected Tuesday a proposition to reappoint the Genesee County Board of Supervisors, 6,210 - 5,894.

The proposed reapportionment plan would have separated the county into nine districts with two supervisors from each district to replace the present 19-member board.

Acting under a court order, the present board offered the plan for consideration by voters.

Phoenicia Library Art Show

PHOENICIA — Frank Schlesinger of Chichester is again showing a collection of his paintings at the Phoenicia Library.

Friends and neighbors, who think of Artist Schlesinger primarily as a painter of clowns, remember him before his Mexican trip. The elemental quality of this colorful country lends itself naturally to the brush of this painter whose strokes are primitive and strong.

During the same interval, he has reached out into the abstract. Here again, the result is strictly Schlesinger. The forms are changed from the representational to the imaginative, but the colors, the technique, the style of these decorative designs mark them for the artist's own.

The Phoenicia Library set out initially in its art exhibition project to provide an opportunity for local artists both professional and amateur to show their work to the Shandaken community. Guest artists have also been included in the program. The present exhibition will be on display during regular library hours until early December. The public may attend.

Fact of Matter

About one out of every 20,000 persons in the world is an albino, which means the absence of a dark-brown pigment normally present in the eyes, skin and hair. The condition is inherited. The highest incidence occurs among the San Blas Indians of the Caribbean. Seven out of 1,000 San Blas Indians are albinos.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I have an item from a local paper of Jan. 28, 1886. I notice Lackawanna screened coal was from $3.75 to $4.40 a ton at Wilbur. At this time in 1966, when Urban Renewal is demolishing one brick and stone structure after another in Rondout, an item from this 1886 local paper is interesting. It reads in part: "Factories in Rondout would be beneficial, is an undisputed fact. Factories are the mainstays in the machinery of prosperous cities. They create trade, they bring business, their influence is felt in every line. With the establishment of a single factory there is not a store of any kind that would not feel its influence. One factory would bring another and another, until the busy hum of manufacturers of various kinds would resound on every hand. The exceptional transportation facilities, the conveniences of location and the low rate of taxation, as compared with other manufacturing places, offered by Rondout, surely should be tempting enough to attract manufacturers." This was written in 1886.

Only recently in the 1965-66 removal of people from Broadway East, there were several factories in the old Stock and Cordts building, later Andy's Furniture Company. One had some three dozen machines, which closed entirely, so it seems and went away. Another went to Port Ewen, Town of Esopus because of the coming of this new planning. To my way of thinking, taxable properties should be encouraged and not discouraged from staying in Kingston, unless directly in the way of the new bridge and highway. Even in that case they should have been relocated in the city proper, I think.

The following also from a Jan. 28, 1886 local paper. Silas Corwin, aged 97, died in Newburgh. He was born in Suffolk County and resided in New Windsor since 1809. In 1828, he built the first steamboat that ever left Orange County. According to present standards if a man can pass his 50th birthday in this extreme hustle and bustle he begins to live on borrowed time. They say folks live longer today, perhaps it seems so.

This Jan. 28, 1886 also carries timetables of the Ulster and Delaware Railroad. The West Shore Railroad (N. Y. C. & H.R.R.R. Lessee). Those were the days when they used to leave the West Shore Depot in Kingston. They were running to New York about every two hours. They had sleeping cars for Albany, Rochester, Buffalo and Chicago in 1886. The Wallkill Valley R. R. timetable is also here which took effect Sunday, Oct. 4, 1885.

They also mention the stage connections like from Rosendale for High Falls and Stone Ridge at 9:50 a. m. and 3:45 p. m. From New Paltz for Lake Mohonk and Lake Minnewaska, from all trains during season between May 1 and Oct. 15. They show a star for "trains stop only when flagged." I do not think we had stage-coaches, but a stage was a horse drawn vehicle which ran on a schedule from one place to another around here.

In this same 1886 local paper they cover some 14 concerts called Musical Conversation. They mention "the acoustic properties of Recreation Hall, this city—where the concerts and festival will be held. Feb. 22 to 26—are considered excellent. Professor Carl Zerrahn of Boston to conduct 700 voices." Some names mentioned in this concert group are Mrs. Silas Leffler, Mrs. John Weber Jr., Mrs. M. B. McCausland, Miss Sarah Mauterstock, William H. Rieser, Jansen Hasbrouck, W. S. Rodie, H. S. Crispell, Frank Powley, R. W. Anderson and other well known names.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 9, the 313th day of 1966. There are 52 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1918, Germany's Kaiser Wilhelm abdicated and the country was proclaimed a republic.

One this date: In 1935, a meeting was held in Washington to organize the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

In 1940, Neville Chamberlain, British prime minister who negotiated the Munich pact, died.

In 1941, a Chicago-to-New York express train was wrecked at Dunkirk, Ohio, killing 20 persons and injuring 40 others.

In 1943, the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration was created.

Ten years ago 8 congressional leaders of both parties predicted Democrats and Republicans would work together in the newly elected Democratic-controlled Congress.

Five years ago — Visiting Indian Prime Minister Nehru and President John F. Kennedy wound up a four-day series of conferences in Washington.

One year ago — A massive power failure blacked out parts of eight Northeastern states and two provinces in southeastern Canada. New York City was caught at rush hour and millions of New Yorkers were without electricity for some 10 hours.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Members of the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division presented $1,300 today to the family of a South Korean private slain in the North Korean attack Nov. 2 on a 2nd Division patrol just south of the demilitarized zone.

The dead man, Pvt. Oh Myung-hwan, was assigned to the division. Six of the seven Americans in the patrol were killed in the ambush, which occurred in the closing hours of President Johnson's visit to Korea.

Skelton Opposes Superlatives for His Appearances

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Red Skelton clings to a curious billing in his television and personal appearances. He is announced merely as "one of America's clowns."

No superlatives. No other description of his talents.

He explains his reasoning: "I don't want to be called 'the greatest' or 'one of the greatest'; let the other guys claim to be the best. I just want to be known as 'a clown' because to me that's the height of my profession. It means you can do everything — sing, dance and above all, make people laugh."

Skelton will demonstrate his reverence for clownship with his first special of the season, makeup with him are Amanda "Clown Alley," which appears tonight on CBS. Donning circus makeup, and Red adopted the Meadows, Robert Merrill, Vincent Price, Martha Raye and Bobby Rydell. "Everybody we asked to be on the show accepted," Skelton commented. "That demonstrates what I've always believed: Everyone has a secret desire to play a clown."

Skelton is one of the few comedy stars who actually did so. The son of a part-time clown and college teacher, he joined the Hagenback-Wallace show in 1929 when he was 16. Clowns maintain a code that prohibits copying of another's 13 in a bed."

Situation Ethics To Be Topic of Guest Speakers

The second of the talks on current moral thinking sponsored by the Ulster County Conferment of Christian Doctrine will be given at St. Joseph's School, Kingston, on Thursday at 8 p. m.

The subject matter, Situation Ethics, much discussed in the press, will be presented by two speakers: the Rev. Robert A. Hess, pastor of the Flatbush Reformed Church, and Brother John Bosco Normandin, professor of theology at Marist College, Poughkeepsie.

Concern With People

The Rev. Mr. Hess said that Situation Ethics was a new movement started in the Anglican Church because of what some thought to be an inflexible stand on the part of the church. These people, particularly the Rev. Joseph Fletcher, Bishop John A. T. Robinson and Canon Douglas A. Rhymes, thought the church unconcerned with people and overly concerned with the moral laws of the church—the church had a pat answer for every problem. They went back to the scriptures and felt that

REV. ROBERT HESS

Christ neither talked or acted this way. They felt that each situation should be governed by its own merits. For them there were no absolutes other than the absolute of LOVE. Their thoughts have spread to other faiths and lands. The Rev. Mr. Hess will present situation ethics as proposed by its principal proponent, the Rev. Mr. Fletcher.

Climate, Not Doctrine

Brother John Bosco said that the deep change in the moral consciousness, concealed under the label of situation ethics, is a climate rather than a doctrine and is the result of an alteration in modern man's feeling and thinking. The resulting self-discovery and awareness that he experiences has given rise to urgent need for mature atonement in his existence, including the removal of all constraint in his personal decisions — his inner freedom decides what is good and what is evil. The new moral feeling with its resistance to the traditionally static and legal attitudes of the past has affected Catholic thinking also. The resultant development of a Catholic morality — which is in fact a situation ethics — will be the topic of Brother John Bosco's talk.

and his MTh from Edinburgh, Scotland. Brother John Bosco received his BA from Marist College, the degree of SRL from the Lateran University, Rome, and his PhD from the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C.

The public may attend the talk. There is no admission charged. The third and final talk of the series, which had been scheduled for Nov. 17, has been changed to Thursday, Dec. 1, at St. Joseph's School. The Rev. Michael Gillese, guidance director of Our Lady of Lourdes High School, will be the speaker on the topic of Freedom and the Law.

F100's Shower Bombs, Napalm On Cong Hideout

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

OVER TAY NINH PROVINCE, South Viet Nam (AP) — The camouflaged jet fighter-bomber leveled off near treetop, spewing a shower of round, brown objects.

In the howling wake of the F100 Super Sabre jet, the close-packed green jungle exploded.

Cluster Hits Home

From the cockpit of this "bird dog," an Air Force forward air controller and this reporter watched the deadly cluster bombs hit home with a spray of killer pellets.

"That was just great," exulted a voice on the spotter plane's sputtering radio. It was the commander of a U.S. infantry battalion deployed around the edges of the expanse of jungle. The controller, Air Force Capt. David Halvorsen of Montevideo, Minn., said a battalion of perhaps 500 Viet Cong hardcore regulars was hiding under the heavy tree canopy.

His mission, and that of the fighter-bombers whose fire he directed was to soften up that battalion with high explosive, antipersonnel and napalm ordnance.

Only One Corner

This was one corner of the battle of Tay Ninh Province which began last Thursday in a region long a Communist stronghold.

Nothing could be seen of the Communist soldiers shielded by layers of tropical growth 1,500 feet below the circling "bird dog."

But the U. S. operation commander — "Atlas 6" — was sure the Reds were there. U. S. infantrymen of the 196th Brigade had made contact.

Within three hours, U. S. and South Vietnamese fighter bombers loosed four air strikes on this mile-square patch of jungle.

With purple, yellow and red smoke markers to guide them, the F100s screamed in one at a time, crisscrossed the tree cover with their bombs, then climbed into the lowering afternoon sun.

"A little bit to the right," Halvorsen coached into his microphone. "A little bit to the right of the smoke."

Leaves Smoke Pillar

That's just where the next plane dumped its load, leaving behind a tall pillar of white smoke.

Next came the planes with napalm, the jellied gasoline that incinerates all it touches.

"Do you want this in any particular place?" a Super Sabre pilot asked.

"Generally on that trail we've been shooting over," Halvorsen replied.

In a moment, an F100 in mottled green and tan battle dress streaked low over the trail. Behind it, great sheets of red-orange flames engulfed trees, bushes and grass.

Halvorsen's job was done for the day.

Tomorrow, it would be up to the infantry.

Four Spade Bid Can Be Beaten

By Oswald and James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Oswald: "How would you go about getting to four hearts with the North South hands?"

Jim: "I would start by sitting North. Then I would get a partner who never wanted to play a hand. Then I would just keep on bidding hearts and maybe he might let me play the heart game."

Oswald: "When you find such a partner send him to me. I have had lots of partners who wanted to let me be declarer but somehow or the other I can't imagine even one of them giving up that spade suit."

Jim: "When today's hand was played in the New Orleans tournament every South played spades and most of them played four spades. Even with the normal club lead there is a defense to beat four spades. There is no defense that will beat four hearts."

Oswald: "The club lead is normal because East bid a club. The defense after that lead is quite difficult."

Jim: "East wins the club and notes the fall of South's queen. He sees that the only real chance to beat four spades will be to find South with three diamonds and that he must make it impossible for South to run dummy's hearts. Then he leads the jack or ten of diamonds."

Oswald: "After that play it is up to East to hold off exactly one heart."

Jim: "There is a convention to make this easy for East. West plays his deuce on the first heart lead. In that spot you play low to show an odd number and high to show an even number."

Supreme Court Plans Review of Citizenship Laws

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — Polish-born Beys Afroyim emigrated to the United States in 1912. He was 19.

Thirteen years later, he realized a dream held by hundreds of thousands of refugees to these shores: he became an American citizen by naturalization.

Today at age 73, however, Afroyim is no longer a citizen, although he claims allegiance to the United States. The reason is that while in Israel in 1951, he voted in an election for the Knesset, Israel's legislative body.

Afroyim's situation is by no means unique.

From 1961 through 1965, the State Department ruled 5,173 U.S. citizens had lost their citizenship because they voted in foreign elections. And the same thing happened to another 425 in the first six months of this year.

The State Department felt authority was clear, for a section of the 1940 Nationality Act says:

"A person who is a national of the United States, whether by birth or naturalization, shall lose his nationality by voting in a political election in a foreign state."

The New York Civil Liberties Union, acting on Afroyim's behalf, has won Supreme Court review of the constitutionality of this law, after two lower courts upheld the State Department.

The Supreme Court in recent years has shown itself increasingly reluctant to strip a man of his citizenship, some of the members contending that such a vital right is too precious to lose for anything less than compelling reasons.

At the moment, the government has the power to take away citizenship in six general areas. In addition to renunciation of citizenship or voting in a foreign election, they are:

Obtaining naturalization in a foreign country, serving in the armed forces of a foreign country, under certain circumstances working for a foreign government, and taking an oath of allegiance to a foreign government.

Electric eels are said to be immune from each other's current.

Reports City Lab Work Completed

Dr. Douw S. Meyers, chairman of the Board of Managers of the City of Kingston Laboratory, has announced the completion of remodeling of the facilities of the laboratory. The reception and waiting rooms for patients have been expanded and attractively decorated.

The clinic area, Blood Bank facilities and Hematology Department have undergone a complete change with more efficient utilization of space and more attractive decor.

New space has been created and utilized for crossmatching tests, media preparation and glassware washing facilities. Dr. Meyers has announced plans for an open house for city and county officials and the public Tuesday, Nov. 15 at 7:30 p. m.

The architect for the newly completed remodeling was the firm of Hutton and Mayer and the contractor, Larsen, Swart and Larsen, both of Kingston.

Eddie Arcaro won $30,039,543 in 31 years as a jockey.

How much money will a CLOTHES DRYER save you?

A clothes dryer plus permanent press clothes can produce big savings for your family. (The new no-iron fabrics are at their best when dried the modern way in an automatic Electric Dryer.)

That's not all — you don't need as much clothing, bedding, or linens when you have a modern dryer. You can save over $35 a year on clothes alone for a six-year old!

You save time, too. A busy house wife needs all the time she can get — and a dryer saves hours and hours of work weekly.

Last but not least, your clothes will last longer and dry fresher, without fading, fraying, or outside dirt and dust, when you dry with a Clothes Dryer.

Says Vote Failed to Reflect Backlash, Inflation, Viet War

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The little guy felt like a dope today. He was all steamed up about the elections — the shouting, the speeches, the parades, the dire predictions, and all those characters on television.

Then what happened? Not much. Well, maybe, it did mean something. The Republicans made some progress. They picked up some seats in Congress and some governorships.

Won't Last

But the little guy thought: If they keep on making this kind of progress much longer they won't last much longer as a party. And when the returns were in, all that business about white backlash, inflation and the war in Viet Nam hadn't seemed to mean much.

The Democrats went into the elections in control of Congress with a majority in House and Senate. When it was over, they still had control.

The Republicans just cut down the majority a bit. In an off-year congressional election like this one it's just par for the course for the minority party to pick up some seats.

The little guy didn't have to be a professor to remember the Republicans have been a minority party, and the Democrats have been running Congress, ever since 1932, with two exceptions.

Looked Alike

There was a time, back in the 1920s, when Republicans and Democrats looked pretty much like twins. They were both conservative. And when Franklin D. Roosevelt ran for the presidency in 1932, in the depression, he was even talking about cutting down government spending.

What puzzled the little guy was why, in all of Roosevelt's years, the Republicans didn't learn anything from him.

The little guy didn't even think the Republicans learned anything from Dwight D. Eisenhower, the only Republican to win the presidency since 1932.

He not only embraced the New Deal programs, but expanded on them. And he put an end to the party's isolationism.

Given to Demis

They gave Eisenhower a Republican-run Congress in 1952 but snatched it away again in 1954—an off-year election—and while they were re-electing Eisenhower overwhelmingly in 1956, they put Congress in the hands of the Democrats. They've had it ever since.

But then — and this really puzzled the little guy — just as if Eisenhower had never existed, in 1964 the Republicans picked as their presidential candidate the most conservative party leader in this century — Sen. Barry Goldwater. He got drowned in the election.

The little guy thought the country needs two parties but he wondered: How long can a guy, or a party, keep on getting clobbered and still breathe?

Hurley Ladybugs Elect

The Hurley Ladybug 4-H Club had a business meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. Lee Lewis, Russell Road, Hurley, and elected a slate of officers.

Eleanor Waligurski was elected president; Lori Morehouse, vice president; Karen Schmedake secretary; Linda Ammerman, treasurer; Ann Markes, news reporter; Denise Benishake, songleader; Debby Smith, assistant songleader; Susanna Lewis recreation leader; and Kathy LaRusso, assistant recreation leader.

At previous meetings the club made raw vegetable nibbles, tossed salad, scrambled fruit salad, and pineapple double ring.

Mrs. Lewis is the leader assisted by Mrs. Robert Schmedake and Miss Diane Palen.

Dear Abby . . .

Teens Can Earn Their Privileges

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am nearly 17, a senior in high school and a straight "A" student. I went to a drive-in movie with the same boy three Saturday nights in a row. Each time I was home at the time my parents set for me—12:30. After the third date they calmly told me I couldn't go to the drive-in with this boy any more. Their only reason was they thought I might do something I might regret.

When they told me this I cried all night. In the past you have always told kids if they listened to their parents and obeyed their rules, trust would come. Well, I've been doing it for nearly 17 years and you can see where it got me. Don't you think my parents are being unreasonable?

NOT TRUSTED

DEAR NOT: Yes, but worse yet they are being unrealistic. Were you bent on doing something you might regret, denying you permission to go to a drive-in movie with a boy wouldn't stop you.

Teen-agers who have demonstrated good judgment, integrity, and respect for their parents' rules should be rewarded by being given added privileges. They've earned it. In the meantime, do as you are told, and I think eventually your parents might see the error in their decision.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law asked my husband to give her the money he was going to spend on my birthday present and "together" they bought me something SHE picked out: A fire engine red wool coat with a low belt all the way 'round. I am 5 feet 3 inches tall and weight 155. She has excellent taste when it comes to selecting her own clothes. What would you say happened in this case, and how would you handle it?

BOILING OVER

DEAR BOILING: There are two possibilities. She either did it on purpose or she didn't. But regardless, I would handle it very carefully while placing it in its original box to return it.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have no automobile. Most of our friends do. When we go out for an evening of pleasure and they park the car in a pay parking lot, is it our part of the evening's participation to pay for at least one-half of the parking expense. PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: There is no "law" or rule covering situations such as this one. Abide by the "Three C's": Common sense, consideration and courtesy. If you believe the other couple to be on a limited budget, and you can gracefully pay for the parking, I say pay for ALL of it in return for the chauffeur service.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FASHION-CONSCIOUS": A lady's dress should be like a stamped barbed wire fence. It should protect the property without obscuring the view.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, inclose a self-addressed envelope.

Johnson Ford Buys Property Housing Agency

One of the largest real estate transactions in this area in some time took place earlier this month when the Kingston Shopping Plaza, a subsidiary of Food Fair Properties, Inc., sold to Johnson Ford the property on Route 28, Town of Ulster on which the Johnson Ford agency is located.

The sale price, as indicated by revenue stamps on the deed, is just under $500,000. The property was originally leased from Food Fair Properties, Inc., by Parson Ford, who held an option to purchase. The option was exercised by Johnson Ford, who acquired the Ford car agency from Parsons Ford. Of irregular dimensions, the property consists of approximately two acres and is located just west of the New York State Thruway on Route 28.

The transaction was negotiated by R. E. Craft and Moe Solomon Associate, brokers of 142 Main Street.

$100 Per Plate Dinner Set for Area Hospital

Support of the fund raising dinner sponsored by The Ellenville Community Hospital on the pre-Thanksgiving weekend would be a positive act of thanksgiving by members of the community, it was suggested this week by members of the dinner committee. The $100 a couple dinner-dance is scheduled for Nov. 20 at Homewick Lodge. A smorgasbord-cocktail party will precede the dinner. Entertainment and dancing will be part of the gala evening.

Hospital officials note that since the new facility was opened last March the hospital has increased the number of people it has served in every phase of its activity. They point out that in order to build the institution to meet the needs of the community a long-range indebtedness in the form of a $400,000 mortgage was undertaken. The dinner, which is projected as an annual affair, will help take care of the interest and amortization of the mortgage.

"It is easy," noted Harry Rieger, co-chairman of the dinner "to simply accept the fine new hospital and to forget one's obligation to the voluntary non-profit institution. But it would be fitting for the community to give active thanks for this modern health care facility. The dinner is a fine way to express that gratitude. And it will be an outstanding event in addition. We anticipate a fine crowd."

Levitt, Resnick

328, but in 1964 he was 454 votes shy of defeating Democrat Robert A. Mandia here. That was the presidential year, however, when the Johnson-Humphrey-Dem-Lib. ticket scored 8,799 votes to Republican Goldwater-Miller 4,675 in the city and Resnick bested Wharton 7,089 to 5,073.

Comptroller Levitt's Dem-Lib. vote against Republican Charles T. Lanigan Tuesday was 6,219 to 4,029. Other votes were: J. Crosby (Cons.) 283, J. Emanuel, Social-Labor 15, and R. Levitt, Social Worker 12.

Other Tuesday votes: State Senator: Jay P. Rolison Jr. (R) 4,888, Horace C. Graham (D) 4,493; J. Marvella (Lib.) 363 and Frank E. Becker (Cons.) 358.

Leftkowitz Leads

Attorney General: L. J. Leftkowitz (R) 5,785; F. A. Sedita (D) 3,878; S. Golar (Lib.) 619 and P. Boutelle (Soc. Worker) 9.

County Clerk: A. Spada (R) 5,810; R. Mitchell Jr. (D) 4,029; D. Short (Lib.) 326 and J. C. Rickard (Cons.) 276.

District Delegates to the Constitutional Convention: H. Clark Bell (R-Cons.) 5,484; S. James Matthews (R) 5,662; R. W. Pomeroy (R-Cons.) 4,699; G. VanBramer (D-Lib.) 5,542; Robert Mandia (D-Lib.) 4,721; B. Sperling (Lib) 372, and H. Clark Bell (Cons.) 231.

Incumbent Republican Coroner William S. Keyser, unopposed polled 5,573 votes.

A proposition dealing with expansion of state recreation facilities, and the much watched amendment No. 7 to authorize a state lottery in support of education won substantial "yes" votes in the city. Other votes on amendments may be seen elsewhere on a table on the general city vote.

Candidates for the posts of Chief Judge of the Court of Appeals and Justice of the Supreme Court were unopposed. They were: Stanley J. Eul (for Appeals) and Edward S. Conway, who had been endorsed by the Republican, Democratic, Liberal and Conservative parties.

Certificates Required

NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian government announced it will require medical certificates from all Moslems before they are permitted to leave for Saudi Arabia for the annual "Hajj" pilgrimage to Mecca.

Flood Damage

GAUHATI, India (AP)—Floods in India this year have caused an estimated $106 million damage to crops and personal property, according to Irrigation Minister Fakhrudin Ali Ahmad.

Constitutional Convention Delegates

R. WATSON POMEROY

H. CLARK BELL

Ulster Elects County GOP Slate

(R-Kingston) was reelected without opposition. He polled 22,444 votes.

Republican candidates for district delegates to the Constitutional Convention were elected. They were: H. Clark Bell, S. James Matthews, and R. Watson Pomeroy. The unofficial, incomplete vote available today follows:

Bell (R) 22,992; Matthews (R) 24,966; Pomeroy (R) 22,123; Robert Mandia (D) 15,660; Louise Puetze (D) 14,837; Glenn C. Van Bramer (D) 16,953; Mandia (L) 1,215; Bernard Sperling (L) 1,304; Van Bramer (L) 1,368; Bell (C) 1,743; Harold Quick Clark (C) 1,823; Pomeroy (C) 1,510. Bell's combined unofficial vote was 24,735; Pomeroy's was 23,633; Mandia 16,785; Van Bramer 18,321.

A late unofficial vote gave Rolison 57,554 votes for senator, and Graham 36,080.

The incomplete results of yesterday's election for Constitutional Convention delegates-at-large by party:

Republicans 18,818; Democrats 12,359; Liberal 1,215; Conservatives 1,603. There were eight write-ins.

Rocky Comeback

Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller staged a strong political comeback and was reelected. The unofficial Ulster County results in the contest for governor and lieutenant governor:

Rockefeller - Malcolm Wilson 22,685; Frank D. O'Connor and Howard J. Samuels (D) 14,992; Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., and Donald S. Harrington (L) 2,910; Paul L. Adams and Kieran O'Doherty (C) 2,614. The vote of Milton Herder - Doris Ballantyne (Socialist Labor) and Judith White and Richard Garza (Socialist Workers Party) were not available.

Other Ulster County unofficial results:

For comptroller — Charles T. Lanigan (R) 19,018; Arthur Levitt (D) 20,932; Arthur Levitt (L) 1,910 (combined vote 22,842); Benjamin R. Crosby (C) 1,669.

Cancer Warning Signals

Warning Signal No. 2

Cancer of the breast is the commonest major form of cancer among women. It is most frequent in women after 45 years of age though it occurs not infrequently in the 30's and 40's and it is also seen occasionally in the 20's.

Most of the time, the first warning signal for cancer of the breast is a painless lump, usually in the upper outer part of the breast. The woman discovers the lump accidentally while dressing, bathing, or towel-drying. The average size of a breast lump discovered in this way is one to two inches in diameter.

Biopsy Best Bet

A woman finding a lump or thickening in her breast should consult a physician without delay. There are other causes for a lump in the breast besides cancer. In fact, two-thirds of all breast lumps are not cancer. The younger the woman the less likely a lump in the breast is cancer.

The surest way to be certain of the nature of a lump in the breast, is a biopsy. The lump or part of it is removed with the woman in the operating room and examined by a pathologist. If the lump proves to be cancer the operation is continued with the removal of the breast, underlying tissue, and tissue of the arm pit. If the lump turns out to be non-cancerous, the operation is completed without removal of breast and other tissues.

In cancer, localized to the breast, which is treated with modern surgery the curability rate is 70 to 80 per cent. When cancer has spread from the breast to regional lymph nodes the curability drops to 45 per cent. The average curability rate in the United States today for all cancers of the breast is about 50 per cent. This means that cancer of the breast for many women is being diagnosed and treated when it is no longer localized to the breast. The obvious answer to the problem of saving more women from cancer of the breast lies in increasing the number of cancers recognized in a localized stage when the outlook for hopeful result from present methods of treatment reaches 70 to 80 per cent rather than 45 per cent.

Growth Chances Increase

The average cancer of the breast which is discovered accidentally by a woman is already one to two inches in diameter. To attain this size the cancer must have grown six to 12 months. As time goes on in the growth of a cancer the chance for spread beyond the breast increases. It is possible for a woman to find a

The vote polled by John Emanuel (S-L) and Ralph Levitt (Socialist Workers Party) were not available.

Attorney General — Louis J. Leftkowitz (R) 26,990; Frank D. Sedita (D) 14,038; Simon Golar (L) 1,165; Mason L. Hampton (Cons.) 1,658. Paul Boutelle (Socialist Worker Party—vote not available).

Victory for All: Resnick

"This is a victory for all the people of the 28th District," newly reelected Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick commented on his narrow victory over Republican Hamilton Fish Jr.

"I worked for the people, voted for the people in Congress, and for the people responded," Resnick said. "I am eagerly looking forward to returning to Congress to see what I can do to help the people of the 28th District."

Resnick was reached at the Granit Hotel in Accord early this morning by The Freeman. When told of the decisive victory by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller over Frank D. O'Connor in the state gubernatorial race, Resnick expressed some surprise. "A lot of people must have switched at the last minute," he said. "I've noticed the Democrats are getting clobbered all over the country. I guess I'm one of the few that won."

Resnick was asked if he were planning a vacation now that the tough campaign is over. Resnick said, but I have to see this Luni case to a conclusion."

"I resented the fact that my opponents accused me of playing politics with the Luni's but before the election there was no way I could refute their statements. Now that the politics are over I still intend to see that the Luni's get justice."

will not go on vacation until this Luni matter is satisfactorily settled."

Resnick expressed his gratitude to his "hard working" staff, saying, "A good staff is half the battle. I was privileged to have a dedicated, tight-knit group working with me and the results certainly show their worth."

Those Not Under Social Security Are Now Eligible

Even though they were never employed under social security, an estimated 1,100 residents of Ulster and Greene Counties now 72 or over, will be eligible starting with October 1966, for $35 monthly cash benefits ($52.50 for couples), according to George J. Habernig, social security district manager in Kingston.

Special questionnaires have been mailed to all the eligible persons who have signed up for hospital insurance under medicare, but anyone now 72 who failed to apply for medicare is advised to get in touch with his social security office. So should those who did sign up for medicare, who have not yet heard from their social security office.

Unlike other benefit claims, these special benefits under a 1966 amendment to the Social Security Act will have no retroactivity. Payments will begin in the month the application is received in the social security office, but not before October.

The special benefit are not payable to anyone who receives railroad retirement or regular social security benefits, nor to those who receive civil service annuities or other federal or state pensions. In some instances, if such other pension is less than $35 a month, payments under the new amendment can be made to bring the combined amount to $35.

Those who have been receiving public assistance payments can receive the special benefits only for months in which they do not get public assistance.

Resident aliens will be eligible if they have been legally admitted for permanent residence and have lived in the United States continuously for at least five years immediately preceding the month of application.

When both husband and wife are eligible the wife will receive $17.50 monthly and the husband $35.

Detailed information and help in preparing the applications may be obtained at the social security office, 57 Albany Avenue. The office is open daily except Saturday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and on Friday evening until 9 p. m.

'How to Succeed'

WACO, Tex. (AP) — "Nothing succeeds like success" the saying goes, and together with a Texas firm, the Ladies Professional Golf Association is using its tournament in Waco in November to prove it. The Waco-based firm sponsoring the LPGA event is called Success Motivation Institute, Inc. So what have the golfing ladies named their new tournament? Well, of course — "The Success Open."

May Hit Great Society

Dems Reclaim House Control; Republicans Gain

By CARL F. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats reclaimed House control for the seventh straight Congress today but bigger-than-expected Republican gains imperiled the Johnson administration's working majority on "Great Society" domestic programs.

An influx of Republicans from the traditionally GOP states of the Midwest and from the once solidly Democratic South whittled the big Democratic majority to less than it was before President Johnson's 1964 landslide victory.

Won 242 Districts
Democrats had won 242 districts and were leading in 7 others early today, while Republicans had captured 173 and were leading in 13 — a potential GOP pickup of 46. Democrats had a 295-140 House majority in the last Congress.

The party out of power has won an average of 40 seats in off-year elections over the last 30 years.

Although the 89th Congress approved the great bulk of the Johnson program, such measures as demonstration cities, rent supplements and medicare slipped through with majorities that could have been erased with a 25-vote change because of the traditional GOP-Southern Democrat alliance.

Could Be Trouble
Thus the loss of so many Democratic seats, most held by firm administration supporters, means the administration could be headed for difficulty in financing programs such as demonstration cities and rent supplements.

The election outcome also may inhibit Johnson, a political realist, from proposing any vast new domestic programs to the 90th Congress.

Of the 44 freshman Democrats running for re-election from districts that were Republican before 1964, slightly more than half won or were headed for victory. Early today, the count stood 20 re-elected, 13 defeated, 5 leading and 6 trailing.

Four Held True
Of six bellwether districts that had reflected House trends over the past decade, four held true to form and went back to the Republicans — in Iowa, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin. But Democrats held two others, in Connecticut and Indiana.

Republicans did better than expected in the South, picking up two seats in Texas and Virginia and one each in Florida, Georgia, Tennessee and North Carolina. Democrats regained two of five Republican seats in Alabama and one in Mississippi. House Democrat whip Hale Boggs of Louisiana scored a smashing victory in his New Orleans district.

One of the Democrats to go under was Rep. Harold D. Cooley of North Carolina, veteran chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, who was defeated by Republican James Gardner.

One Republican newcomer in California, was former Olympic decathlon champion Robert B. Mathias who unseated Rep. Harlan Hagen.

Democrat John V. Tunney, son of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney, won re-election in California.

CLINTONDALE NEWS

CLINTONDALE — Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Palazzo have returned to their home on Prospect Boulevard after spending a week with friends at a camp in the Newcomb section of the Adirondacks.

The Town of Plattekill Republicans wound up their pre-election activities with the seventh annual dinner Saturday night held at the Villa Nuova in Plattekill, an event attended by nearly 500. Carl Spad, who is chairman of the New York State Republican Committee, was the guest speaker. Assemblyman Kenneth Wilson, and other Republican candidates also attended. Plattekill Supervisor Joseph Martorana was the toastmaster. John Klein, chairman of the Town of Plattekill Republican committee was general chairman and Frank Pineiro was in charge of the dinner arrangements.

Funeral services were held here last Thursday for Isaac Ellis, 84, who died in Philadelphia. Mr. Ellis was born here May 7, 1882, the son of the late Williams and Henrietta Hartwell Ellis. He was a member of the Clintonville Friends Church. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis and family lived here for a great many years. He was a farmer and an employee of the Ulster County Highway Department.

The Plattekill Lions Club will sponsor a round and square dance featuring the famous Pete

Williams and his Ranchers at the Oddo House Saturday night. Dancing will begin at 9 p. m. Proceeds will go toward the Sight Conservation Fund.

Dr. Frieda Trainor, director of research at Goldwater Hospital in New York City will spend the weekend here with her family at their home on Tuckers Corners Road.

Clintonville Fire Department will hold a meeting Monday night at the fire station with Francis Gaffney, president, conducting the meeting.

Local members of the Ulster County Farm Extension Service Association will attend the annual dinner to be held Wednesday night, Nov. 16 at the Granit Hotel, Accord. Following the dinner there will be a stage show and dancing.

Members of Boy Scout Troop

171 Boy Scouts of America made a fine record at the Minnewaska Trail District camporee held recently at Ulster Heights. Fox Patrol won an award for compass work. The Scouts were led by Roger Jenkins and Roger Rosenkranz.

Mrs. Jerome Hurd was among those who attended the Area Conference of the American Association of University Women held at Warwick. The delegates explored the topic, Designs for the Times; Whither Goest the Hudson Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thorn Jr. of Hull Avenue are the parents of a daughter born last Wednesday at Vassar Hospital.

At the Clintonville Methodist Church the Rev. Purdy Halstead will hold a service of worship at 9:45 Sunday morning. The Sunday school classes will meet at the same hour in another portion of the church.

There will be a service at the Friends Meeting house at 11 o'clock Sunday morning with the Rev. Gerald Sutch in the pulpit. Sunday school classes will convene at 9:45 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mandia were among those to attend a reception for Congressman Joseph Resnick at the home of Supervisor and Mrs. Thomas Shay Jr. in Highland Saturday. Mr. Mandia is the Democratic candidate for the post of delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

Russell Rhodes is preparing to spend some time at his deer hunting camp near Trails End.

County Teachers Group Launches Plans for Year

The Ulster County Teachers Council has launched an ambitious program for the coming school year. The council is composed of delegates from local teachers associations representing nearly a thousand teachers in the area. Schools participating in the council are Kingston, Saugerties, Ellenville, Rondout Valley, Onteora, Highland, Wallkill and New Paltz.

The basic purposes of the county association is to act as a forum for local issues. Many teachers in the county feel that closer cooperation on such concerns as teacher salaries; teaching loads and fringe benefits would be especially helpful. Thus far this year the County Council has held two business meetings and has completed the first in a series of salary schools.

The second main effort is to draw up a model professional negotiations agreement that could be a launching point for schools in Ulster County when

No Mail Service On Veterans Day

The Kingston Post Office and its sub-stations will not be open for business Friday, November 11, Veterans Day, a legal holiday. There will be no city or rural service on Friday.

The following is a schedule of hours being maintained for the convenience of persons renting post office boxes:

Main Post Office — lobby open from 6 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Uptown Station — lobby open from 8:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m.

Rondout Station — lobby open from 9 a. m. to 10 a. m.

they have advanced to the position of drawing up negotiations procedures with their boards. Many schools in the state have already entered into such agreements and both school boards and teachers have found that these formalized agreements and professionalism and dignity in securing agreements on all matters concerning teacher-schoolboard relations.

Paul Kelley of New Paltz Central is president this year, with Douglas Snow from Highland Central as vice president. Other officers include Bernice Jansen, Rondout Valley, treasurer; and James McMann, Wallkill, secretary.

Coming events include business meeting and salary school Nov. 28 at Board of Cooperative Educational Services. A professional negotiations workshop will be held Dec. 5 at the Alpine Restaurant.

Bread, which has been baked by man for more than 10,000 years, provides as much as 50 per cent of the total food calories in many countries of the world. In the United States, about one-third of the total annual wheat crop is milled into flour, from which about 15.5 billion pounds of bread are produced, 90 per cent of it white enriched bread.

Croton Officials Go to Court in Post Office Move

CROTON, N.Y., (AP) — The U.S. Post Office moved into its new quarters here over the weekend, but officials of the village of Croton-on-Hudson have gone into court to get them to move out again.

Supreme Court Justice Gerald Nolan Monday ordered the Ottaviano Realty Corp. to show cause why use of the building, which it owns, should not be prohibited for alleged violations of the zoning ordinance.

The Post Office is not a party to the action but is, nonetheless, in the middle. Village officials asked Justice Nolan to immediately stop use of the building, but he declined to do so. He set a hearing for Thursday.

The Ottaviano Realty Corp. built the building in a shopping center at 50 Maple Ave. for lease to the Post Office.

But the village contends that a certificate of occupancy was not issued for the building. The officials said the building did not meet the requirements of the planning board in regard to adequate parking facilities and drainage.

AWOL Soldier Held

A 17-year-old Goshen Army recruit, charged with being absent without leave by military authorities from Fort Dix, N. J., was apprehended at 8 p. m. Tuesday. Andrew M. Ramage is now confined to the Ulster County Jail awaiting the arrival of military authorities to take him into custody.

Wolff Regains House Seat; Reid, Ottinger Score

NEW YORK (AP) — Democratic freshman Rep. Lester L. Wolff, who swept into office during the Johnson landslide two years ago, turned back an attempt by Steven B. Derounian, a Goldwater Republican, to regain his old House seat in Tuesday's election.

The Long Island battle was one of the hottest congressional races in the metropolitan area. Incumbents won every one of them in Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester and Putnam Counties, on the basis of unofficial returns.

Other Winners

The winners besides Wolff were Reps. Herbert Tenzer in Nassau and Otis G. Pike in Suffolk, both Democrats; Reps. John W. Wyder in Nassau and James R. Grover in Nassau-Suffolk, both Democrats; Reps. Ozden R. Reid, Westchester Republican, and Rep. Richard L. Ottinger, a Democrat in a Westchester-Putnam district.

Wolff's victory signified a vote of confidence in the Johnson administration's Viet Nam War policy, which the former television producer-moderator from Kensington supported.

Derounian favored a more vigorous prosecution of the war. His comeback attempt may have been set back by Wolff's championing of the housewives' current battle for lower food prices.

Wolff, who had Liberal party backing in his re-election bid, had called for cash redemption of trading stamps. He contended they were helping to boost prices, but he did not call for their outright banishment.

Derounian had served 12 years in Congress before Wolff clobbered him in 1964, when the Roslyn Estates Republican backed losing presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

Loss Not Surprising

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who swept to re-election with the help of predominantly Republican Nassau County, had disavowed Goldwater in the 1964 race. It was not particularly surprising then for Derounian to lose while fellow Republican Rockefeller was winning by a nearly 2-to-1 margin in the same county.

In another Long Island congressional race, Democrat Tenzer of Lawrence, also first elected in the Johnson landslide, won a second term in the 5th District.

Tenzer, a onetime candy company executive, defeated Republican - controlled Thomas M. Brennan of Rockville Centre, and the Rev. C. M. Fisher of Massapequa, candidate of the United for Peace party.

Differed on War

Tenzer and Brennan also differed substantially on conduct of the Viet Nam conflict. Tenzer, whose election victory was a seven-day belated 61st birthday present, has advocated negotiations to end the war quickly.

Brennan had suggested, like Derounian, that the war be "intensified" and that military commanders in the battle zones have increased freedom of action.

Rep. Grover, Republican of Babylon, won re-election to a third term in the 2nd District on Long Island. The district takes in part of Suffolk and Nassau Counties.

Grover, a 47-year-old former state assemblyman, won in a four-way race against Democrat-Liberal Frank Corso, Conservative Edward Campbell and United for Peace candidate John Brush.

In suburban Westchester County, one of the two congressional races there was won by incumbent Ottinger, a Democratic seeking a second term. The 37-year-old Harvard Law School graduate and father of four was a founder and the second staff member of the Peace Corps.

Ottinger's one opponent was Republican F. J. Martin Jr. The congressional district served by Ottinger — the 25th — also includes Putnam County.

Reid Beat Two

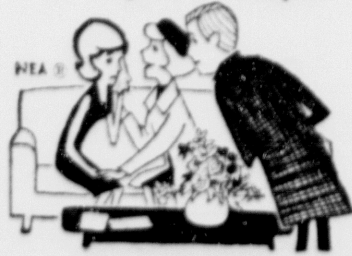

Reid's victory in the 26th District in Westchester was over two opponents, Democrat J. L. Hutner and Conservative A. M. Gants.

Reid, of Purchase, N.Y., is a former U.S. ambassador to Israel and onetime chairman of the New York State Commission for Human Rights. He has served in both the 88th and 89th Congresses. He was president and editor of the new defunct New York Herald Tribune from 1955-59.

Representative Pike, a Riverhead Democrat, won a fourth term over Republican James M. Catterson Jr. and Conservative Kenneth J. Crish Jr. Pike also had Liberal party endorsement.

Pike's 1st District takes in all of Suffolk County except for the portion covered by Grover's 2nd District; the towns of Huntington and Babylon.

U.S. Message On Viet Peace Unheard in Cairo

By GAVEN HUGHINS

CAIRO (AP) — The American message on Viet Nam is being ignored or is not getting across in Cairo, one of the major capitals with ties to both East and West.

Official statements on Viet Nam and editorials in the government-controlled press invariably call on the United States to withdraw. There is no mention of reciprocal withdrawals by North Vietnamese forces the United States claims have infiltrated the south.

Nor is there any equation made between the somewhat analogous situation in which Egypt finds itself. Some 50,000 of its troops are in Yemen to support the republican regime of President Abdullah al-Sallal.

The apparent mistrust of U.S. motives seems to go beyond traditional resentment of U.S. policy toward Israel and to rest on a basic suspicion.

Charge U.S. Spying

Egyptians, many of them young university graduates who presumably will play major roles in shaping this country's future, accuse the United States of being behind virtually every government turnover in the world that does not happen to come up leftist.

Some educated Egyptians argue passionately that the United States seeks to dominate the world through economic and military aid, which they claim is never given without strings attached.

Talking about the lapse of the last U.S. food-for-peace grant in June — an agreement which has not been renewed despite Egyptian requests for a new, long-term deal — a qualified Egyptian source said: "How can the United States link politics with bread? When the United States involves political pressure with wheat, I have to think: 'This is my bread you're talking about.'"

Actually, the United States has not closed the door on wheat allocations. But new legislation in Washington basically has changed the old food-for-peace program under which wheat was supplied for 10 years through soft-currency agreements.

Future food grants are almost certain to be on a hard-currency basis but with provisions for long-term repayment.

Pope Orders Plan For Cooperation On Common Bible

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican announced today that Pope Paul VI has given orders for the Roman Catholic Church to work with Protestants, Anglicans and Orthodox Catholics to produce a common Bible for all Christians.

A common Bible for the world's Christians has long been a dream of the ecumenical movement to bring the churches together.

The announcement said the Pope, in implementing a decision of the Vatican Ecumenical Council, had entrusted the task to the Vatican Secretariat of Christian Unity.

The various Catholic conferences of bishops around the world have been sent questionnaires asking information on the "needs, possibilities and difficulties of each area with regard to Bible translation and distribution," the announcement added.

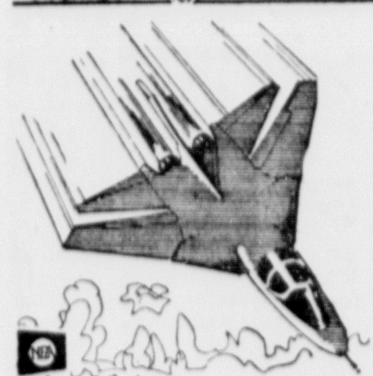

An American priest, the Rev. Walter M. Abbott, has been named to direct Catholic participation in the study.

Father Abbott was born in Boston, Mass., in 1923. He will represent the Vatican Unity Secretariat at a meeting Nov. 14-16 of the American Bible Society's Advisory Council. The meeting will discuss cooperation with the Catholic Church in various countries.

'To Be Alive' Book

NEW YORK (AP) — An Academy Award winning movie called "To Be Alive" is coming to life in a new form. The hit film, which drew more than five million persons to the Johnson Wax Pavilion at the recent New York World's Fair, has been translated into a book.

matter of fact

The term "Mach number," referring to the ratio between the velocity of a flying vehicle in the atmosphere and the speed of sound, was named for Ernst Mach, Austrian physicist and philosopher of the late 19th and early 20th centuries. His criticisms of contemporary scientific views helped to pave the way for Albert Einstein's theory of relativity a generation later.

Florida Jewel Robbery

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Three well-dressed young gunmen broke into the home of a national grocery chain executive Monday night and took jewels and cash totaling about $100,000.

The robbery occurred at the waterfront home of Henry Kramer, president of the Southern division of the Food Fair grocery chain.

Police said Kramer and his wife, Mariam, had just returned home when three armed men, posing as deliverymen, forced their way into the one-story home.

Questions Often Asked About Chest Drives

Why are businesses and employers reluctant to permit solicitation of their employees?

This question has been asked many times in the present Ulster County Community Chest campaign to raise $299,600. However, it is raised more by the solicitors in their frustration as they are refused. In the present campaign 50 per cent of the employers groups and almost all of the small businessmen have not permitted a solicitation of their employees.

This is a great concern to the campaign cabinet since a basic policy is to seek every citizen in the community at their place of employment. This eliminates the necessity for an extensive door-to-door solicitation which requires a large number of workers and is generally not too fruitful. By contacting citizens at their place of work, a tremendous amount of time and work is saved and group meetings can be held to acquaint them with the work of the Chest. Many employers will provide payroll deductions. When one campaign seeks funds for 13, cash gifts are generally inadequate. Pledging on a monthly or weekly basis is a good idea and as we have indicated before, as little as 25 cents per week will carry us through. It is difficult to understand why an employer will not permit a solicitation of employees. Many companies are reluctant to solicit their employees due to the manager-employee relationship. Some have union problems, some are concerned with production loss and some refuse out of a genuine concern of reducing the drain from the employees paycheck which at best is small anyway. Part of their problem is a matter of education. This year we have made tremendous strides and many more employers are allowing employee solicitation.

Next: Why should we give to the Community Chest when some of their agencies are in competition with small businessmen.

Relief in Sight? Say Beatles Are Planning Breakup

LONDON (AP) — Amid reports that the Beatles may be breaking up, a spokesman for the mop-topped singing group said today they have no plans to appear together in the near future.

Brian Epstein, the quartet's manager, last week turned down an invitation for them to appear in a special television program for the benefit of residents of the Welsh village of Aberfan, where more than 140 persons were killed last month by an avalanche of coal mine waste.

In the past year they have struck out more and more on their own.

John Lennon, 26, has been making a movie in Spain and Germany for which his hair was cropped.

George Harrison, 23, has grown a moustache and is learning to play the sitar, an Indian stringed instrument.

Ringo Starr, 26, has just returned from a holiday abroad. He has been trying his hand at solo compositions.

Paul McCartney, 24, has also grown a moustache and has been working on the score for a British film.

Electorate Votes

Profits from a state lottery would be earmarked for education, Democratic legislators, who sponsored the presentation of the amendment to the electorate, predicted it could raise $400 million annually, with about half of that to be available for schools.

Ironically, much of the organized opposition to the lottery came from groups closely associated with education. Organizations such as the Board of Regents, the state's governing body for all education, and the State Congress of Parents and Teachers said they wanted more money for schools but objected to a lottery as its source.

Proponents of the New York lottery have indicated a preference for a sweepstakes program similar to the one operated for the past three years in nearby New Hampshire.

The New Hampshire sweepstakes, based on horse racing, was passed amid predictions it would produce $4 million annually for schools. Actually, it's yield for schools the first year was $2.7 million and was only $1.85 million this year.

Once common in New York, lotteries were banned in 1822 when a new constitution was adopted. The state since has allowed pari-mutuel betting and some lesser forms of gambling such as bingo.

Erie Turns Down Reapport Plan

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Erie County electorate rejected Tuesday a Republican-designed and court-tested reapportionment plan, 123,400 to 109,781.

Under the plan, the present 54-member Board of Supervisors would have been replaced by a 40-member county legislature.

The plan met approval in the county's 25 towns and the cities of Lackawanna and Tonawanda but was defeated overwhelmingly in Buffalo.

Recalls Last Year's Power Blackout; Could Occur Again

By LYNN C. NEWLAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

It was frightening, confusing and "impossible."

But the impossible happened a year ago on Nov. 9.

That day, a Tuesday, is referred to in many ways: The power failure, the big blackout, the night the lights went out and Black Tuesday in the Northeast.

Started 5:14 P.M.
The lights started to flicker at 5:14 p.m. near Buffalo and by 5:35 p.m. most of the Northeast and parts of Canada reeled in darkness.

Subsequent investigations by the six major utilities involved, a federal agency, the State Power Authority and the Public Service Commission have explained the why of the failure, but none will say it can't happen again.

In 1963, a worker at the Sir Adams Beck Plant No. 2, at Queenston, Ont., four miles west of Niagara Falls, set an automatic power relay device too low for the load that would be placed on it more than two years later.

Stated simply, too many kilowatts were being pushed through the massive Northeast grid system and circuit breakers did their job by shutting down.

Not Expensive
So simple that a spokesman for the Consolidated Edison Co. said preventing another blackout "isn't a terribly expensive or hard thing to do" or a certainty.

Nearly $10 million has been spent by the utilities for standby equipment, and thousands of man-hours logged in checking and rechecking the complex grid system—the complex system that failed and cast more than 30 million people in simple darkness.

Many today might recall what they were doing on that night.

In New York City, thousands of persons spent, at first, scary moments on subways but cigarette lights and an occasional candle brightened the commuters and their attitude.

The retail and wholesale candle business never had it so good and many taverns and their patrons thought the blackout was just great.

From Buffalo to New York City, many people said it should happen more often because it was reassuring to see people so friendly and helpful to others in a time of emergency.

Since Nov. 9, however, major steps have been taken to prevent another blackout even if it was "fun," as some people described it.

About two months after that black November night, 20 utilities in New England, New York State and Canada formed a mutual-aid and research organization, known as the Northeast Power Coordinating Council.

The council since has taken several steps that it hopes will reduce the possibility of another power failure. These include changes in the design and operation of power systems; installation of auxiliary equipment, and new equipment to assure rapid reenergizing of underground transmission cable.

The New York State Civil Defense strengthened its emergency operation, with the cooperation of many radio and television stations in the state.

Under Civil Defense direction, a State Interim Emergency Radio Network was created, putting the state's chief executive within reach of at least 22 radio stations.

The emergency broadcast headquarters is in an underground complex at the State Campus in Albany. By dialing the correct number, the governor's voice automatically is beamed to the 22 stations linked to the emergency network. The system reaches from Albany to every other major city in the state.

Even with these preventive steps, no one steps, no one is quite certain that another major power failure is impossible.

Today's memory, utility leaders caution, could become reality again.

School Official To Be Speaker at Church Dinner

Dr. Ted Grenda, the new superintendent of Rondout Valley Central School will be guest speaker at a men's community dinner to be held Thursday at the Episcopal Church of Christ the King, Route 213 between High Falls and Stone Ridge.

Dinner will be served 7 p.m. at the parish hall. Tickets are available from members of the vestry or at the church office.

Sidney Gray Jr. is ticket chairman. Mrs. Lloyd Spearman and Mrs. Alwin Nicholas are co-chairmen of the dinner assisted by members of Episcopal Church Women.

Night Club Sells Tickets

NEW YORK (AP)—The Empire Room in the Waldorf-Astoria will sell tickets to its dinner and supper shows—through theater ticket agencies in the Broadway area.

Arkansas Goes To Rockefeller

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Republican Winthrop Rockefeller climaxed a six-year drive to make Arkansas a two-party state early today by beating Democrat Jim Johnson for governor.

With the unofficial count virtually complete, Rockefeller held a solid 23,000-vote lead that had mounted steadily during the evening.

Rockefeller's election in his second try for the state's top office gives Arkansas its first Republican governor since Reconstruction.

NEW PALTZ NEWS New Parsonage Started Here By Nazarenes

NEW PALTZ—The New Paltz Church of the Nazarene, North Chestnut Street, has started the construction of their new parsonage this week. It was announced by the pastor, the Rev. C. W. Lindeman.

A contract was completed with the Schoonmaker Brothers of Newburgh, to build a bi-level, seven room, two bathroom home on the land where the church is located. The church acquired a three and one half acre tract about four years ago for the church and future expansion.

Over three years ago the sanctuary and educational unit was completed. Great progress has been made in the church membership and in the Sunday school work during this period. It has become necessary also to plan for enlargement of the present sanctuary and the membership of the church expects to build the addition to the sanctuary sometime in 1967.

The Church of the Nazarene with a membership of nearly one half million holds the doctrines of the early Methodist Church under the leadership of John Wesley. The church with international headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., has over 700 missionaries located in 60 different foreign countries.

Local Delegates Attend Conclave

The Regional Library Council of Orange and Ulster Counties met at Rondout Valley Central High School recently.

New Paltz Central School was represented by Kathleen McGrath, Mike Turner, Penny Waltz, Edith Polhamus, and by Mrs. Ruth Frampton, high school librarian, and advisor to the New Paltz Library Assistants Club.

Gotham Downs Police Review Board by 2 to 1

By MALCOLM STEPHENSON

NEW YORK (AP) — A vote of almost 2 to 1 — apparently soured by a white backlash and fear of worsening street crime — has killed the city's civilian-dominated police complaint review board.

Mayor John V. Lindsay, who installed the board four months ago, said he believed its defeat in a referendum Tuesday was caused by "emotion, misunderstanding and fear."

John J. Casese, president of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association (PBA) which led the fight against civilian control, said: "Thank God we saved the city."

The PBA, which represents most of the 28,000 policemen, got the referendum on the ballot to decide the fate of the board composed of four civilians and three police officials. The Association contended the board would lower police morale, impair the department's efficiency and make policemen afraid to do their duty in many cases.

Lindsay and other backers of the board contended that, in addition to being good for private citizens, the board would protect policemen against unwarranted charges. Casese and other board foes argued that civilians on the board would not be familiar with police techniques and would tend to take the side of a complainant.

Blanket advertising by foes of the board suggested that if civilian control was continued, it would not be safe to walk the streets, that women could be mugged and narcotics could flourish — all because the police would fear that if they used force they might be targets of unjustified complaints of police brutality and not get justice.

Although the ads did not mention racial issues, they implied that Negroes and Puerto Ricans would be allowed to roam the streets.

As a result of the referendum, the review procedure will revert to all-police control. Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary will appoint a new board of police officials to review charges of brutality and other complaints against policemen and make recommendations to the commissioner. The commissioner will have the final say on discipline, as he has had even under civilian control of the review board.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Senior Residents Get Tax Relief By Board's Vote

Residents of the village of Saugerties, aged 65 or over, with an annual income of $3,000 or less, will receive a 50 per cent reduction in assessed valuation next year on real property taxes, giving them long sought relief from high taxes.

Saugerties Village Board, at its regular meeting Monday night, adopted a resolution to make such measures effective in the village. Earlier, a public hearing had been held on the matter and, recently, the Saugerties Town Board also voted such a proposal into law.

Mayor Cornelius M. Cox and his Board also set Dec. 5 at 8 p. m., just prior to a regular meeting, as the date for a public hearing on the request of Videcom of Saugerties for an increase in rates for its local cable television service.

The remainder of this week's meeting was brief and concerned mostly routine matters. Robert Wade Sr., was granted exempt papers, having served the required length of time as a member of Washington Hose and Ladder Company.

Parks Commissioner Richard

J. Underhill noted the receipt of yet another of many letters which commented on the beauty of Seamon Park. This one had been written by Mr. and Mrs. George Hudson, of Staten Island. Fire Commissioner Donald R. McCaig reported the recent house-to-house canvass by firemen in behalf of Muscular Dystrophy, a gratifying success—and he thanked firemen of the four local companies for their efforts in this worthy cause.

Sewerage Commissioner Gregory A. Mulstay noted that he had authorized the sewer plant operator to purchase three small electric heaters with thermostat control to keep temperatures above freezing in each of the plants housing the new chlorinators. He also said, in his capacity as trustee, that he had checked into the matter of "spite fences" and found that the only action that can be taken is civil action. He urged all village residents to think of the community good before placing such fences on their property.

Mulstay also had high praise for Mandeville Diaz, water supervisor, and the men of his department, for the fine job done last week when the mechanical filters became clogged with leaves, restricting the flow of water into the local reservoir. He said crews stood by all night and used the pumper of a fire truck to direct the necessary flow into the reservoir.

Guard Rails Approved
Street Commissioner Maurice L. Clements was empowered by the board to spend up to $450 to purchase steel guard rails to be placed at the top of Hill Street, where the road has been built up by continual blacktopping and the retaining wall has sunk, causing a hazard to safety.

Police Commissioner Charles W. Steele Jr. had a few succinct words to say in reference to the disposition of recent police cases locally. He quelled rumors of soft sentencing practices; said cases brought before the courts in the Village and Town of Saugerties over the past two months had been handled well. Suspend sentences and dismissals during this period were very low, he said, and local courts are backing police action in the majority of cases.

Board Purchases Heavy Truck From Clark Firm

The Village of Saugerties has added a new, heavy duty Walter truck and snow plow to its highway department equipment at a cost of $21,994. Bids on such a four-wheel drive vehicle were opened recently and contract for purchase of the truck was awarded to William H. Clark Municipal Equipment Company, of Albany.

Village Clerk James V. Gage said two other bids had been received. One came from Hudson River Sales Corporation, of Poughkeepsie, which bid $15,800 for the truck and $1,775 for the snow plow in separate offers, for a total of 17,575. The other bid was made by Syracuse Truck Corporation, of Germantown, for $21,840.

In clarifying why the award was not made to the low bidder, but to the highest, Gage said the bids which were thrown out did not meet specifications as advertised. Hudson River Sales' bid was not for a positive, four-wheel drive truck and the Board found 12 deviations from the specifications, as printed. Bids from the Germantown firm deviated from the specifications on six different mechanical items, while the Clark firm met the specifications in their entirety.

In making the award, the board also considered the fact that the present heavy duty truck owned by the village is a Walter and has been in service for 21 years, attesting to its durability. Since money is available in the budget to pay for the purchase of the truck, no bond issue will have to be floated by local trustees.

Promises Yule Here to Be Most Colorful Ever

Local merchants who hold membership in the Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce are already preparing their stores for the Christmas shopping rush. A wide variety of quality merchandise is being readied, and window displays and store decorations are expected to be attractive and appropriate for the holiday season.

According to Joseph Bosco Jr. and Herbert Lachmann, co-

chairmen of the Merchants Committee of the Chamber, individual merchants are busy with preparations and the group as a whole is aiming for a continuity this year of the whole business district and entrances to Saugerties. All are joining in an effort to present a picture of the holiday season to make Saugerties inviting and to assure that area residents will enjoy shopping here.

Major work in this respect will fall to the Christmas Lighting Committee, which will create a "feeling of oneness" with garlands, colored bulbs and hanging centerpieces. Last year, this group replaced all Main Street strands of Yule lights and, this year, replacements have already been purchased for Partition Street. New strands are also being prepared for Ulster Avenue and lower Partition Street, to give Saugerties the most colorful street decoration in the entire area.

The Lighting Committee will prepare and hang the lights; hopes local merchants will contribute donations to cover cost of the new strands, maintenance of cables, time clocks and electrical installations. Bosco and Lachmann urge that checks for this work be sent immediately, before the season begins, so that all can say they took part in making Saugerties ready for Christmas, both inside and out.

DAR Sees Film On War in Viet

Saugerties Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met recently at the home of Mrs. Ross Snyder, Regent, Mrs. Carroll Nieffer, president. Members stood in silent prayer for newly departed members, Lillian Marchant and Isabel Overbaugh.

DAR Schools chairman, Mrs. Lamoree, gave a report on the clothing and money sent to schools. Saugerties Chapter DAR has received the name of William Stanley as its new adopted student at Tamassee School. A box of Christmas presents, including clothing and money, will be sent in time for the holidays. Stamps were also sent to the Mental Health Center.

It was announced that books will be given to the Saugerties Public Library in memory of Dorothy Clark, Isabel Overbaugh and Lillian Marchant.

Americanism chairman, Mrs. Lewis Gaylord, reported that the next naturalization court will be held Dec. 2. A suggestion was made that now citizens from the Saugerties area be invited guests at a chapter meeting.

Program for the meeting was a movie entitled "While Brave Men Die." The film told the story of the marches, student demonstrations and draft-card burnings which support the communist position in Viet Nam, while American soldiers die for the cause of freedom. All members felt this was a factual and dramatic film.

The December meeting will be held at 2 p. m., Dec. 7, at the home of Mrs. Daniel Lamoree. Program for the afternoon will be the DAR Museum and American History Award. Guests will be: Miss Amy Walker, New York State chairman, American History Award and National vice-chairman of Credentials; Mrs. Max J. Schnurr, New York State Room, Ten Broeck House committee. Hostesses for the meeting are Mrs. Daniel Lamoree, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Augustus Modjeska, Mrs. Willis Cass and Mrs. Harry Overbaugh.

Premises Entered

John Boden of East Paterson, N. J., reported to the sheriff's office Tuesday that during his absence from his summer home on Cedar Hill Road, High Falls, the premises had been entered and the transmission from his 1959 car had been taken. A quantity of gasoline was also taken. The matter is being investigated by the sheriff's department.

Issue Statement On Prejudging

The Board of Directors of Ulster County Bar Association today authorized the issuance of the following statement:

Each year our Bar Association sponsors a week devoted to the affirmation of this country being one which believes in the Rule of Law.

This association wishes to reaffirm its belief that matters under consideration by our courts should not be prejudged, nor should resort be made to the emotions of the general public by anyone seeking to influence or sway our courts, judges or jury members.

Our legal process provides each of us with the means to seek relief when we feel we have been injured.

It is our belief that only a court, be it a one-judge court or an Appellate Court consisting of several judges, will have before it all the facts necessary in order to reach and announce its decision. Any other position means that our legal system is of no value to anyone.

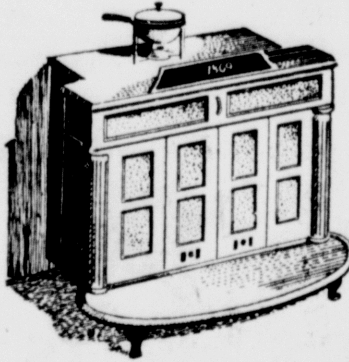

The above statement was adopted by a majority vote of the board of directors and officers of Ulster County Bar Association at a special meeting held at Kingston, Nov. 7.

Its classic styling blends with any decor in any room design. Its versatility makes it adaptable to a variety of uses and installations. Truly, this old favorite is more popular today than ever. It's a warming, cheerful fireplace (with doors open) . . . it's a decorative cabinet (with doors closed) . . . It's a handsome, comfortable and convenient unit that can be installed anywhere.

The Franklin Stove is very useful for family rooms, weekend cabins, porches, patios or anywhere the welcome warmth of auxiliary heat is wanted.

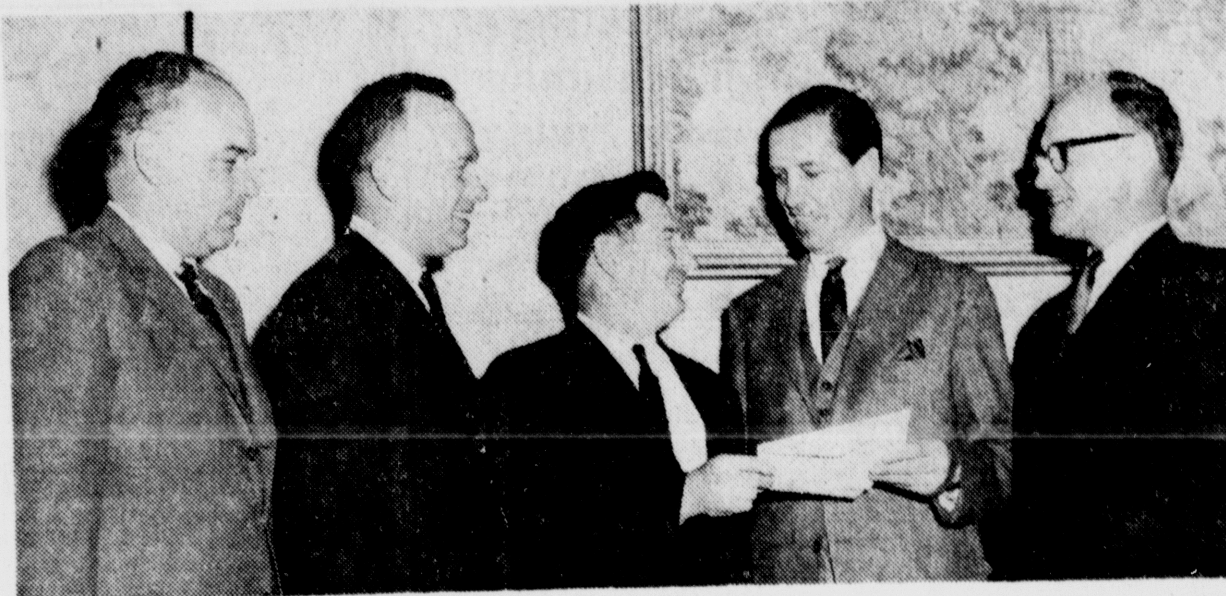

Among its many advantages:

- Can be used with coal, wood or charcoal.
- Heat radiation from the sides provides more heat than most fireplaces.
- Accessories are available for grilling and barbecue cooking—indoors or out.
- Legs provide sufficient clearance for installation directly on the floor.
- Venting for the smokestack can be horizontal or vertical—from top or rear of the stove.
- Can be installed in existing fireplace . . . with or without legs.

All accessories also available such as Grate Basket, Barbecue Grill, Fireplace Screen, Flue Reducer, Cast Iron Elbow.

Computers Share Top Billing With Network Experts

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The

three major television networks

Tuesday night put on marathon programs, estimated to have cost them $7 million, to broadcast national election returns and tell who would win when comparatively few ballots had been counted.

The computers that predicted winners shared star billing with the networks' commentators.

ABC called its projection system

"RSVP," which stood for

"Research Selected Vote Profile." "Forget that as soon as possible," said the network's

Howard K. Smith. "Just pay attention to the projections."

CBS had "VPA" — "Vote

Profile Analysis." And NBC had

"EVA," for "Electronic Vote

Analysis." They all seemed to come up with predictions at about the same times. Each network fed its computers returns from precincts specially picked in advance.

Some Bad Information

A couple of times one or another machine was apparently fed some bad information and came up with an incorrect prediction which was soon corrected. To the casual viewer, however, it was difficult to tell the difference between a computer's "probable winner" and its definite choice.

In other years, the choice of a network to watch on election night was usually based on the presence of a favorite commentator or a preference for the physical arrangement of the results boards.

Tuesday night one might have picked a network for the decor.

In other days the backgrounds were utilitarian with commentators in the middle of a big room filled with busy men, some in their shirt-sleeves.

Elaborate Settings

This time all networks blossomed out in color and carried on in elaborate settings that looked more like backgrounds for musical production numbers.

CBS and NBC had pale blue backgrounds. NBC's set looked like the prow of a ship sailing over a pale blue sea toward dozens of black-rimmed report boards. CBS' was less elaborate. ABC had the most dramatic and colorful set — chartreuse with an orange-red trim, and its commentators occupied little islands, like soloists on

"Hollywood Palace."

Tax Questions, Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—Our teenage daughter babysits and saves this money for college. Should I give the bank where she has her savings account my social security number for tax purposes?

A—No. Your daughter earned the money herself and must have her own social security number. Form SS-5, available at local IRS and Social Security offices, should be used to apply for a number.

Q—I've made a three-year pledge to a church building fund. How much can I deduct this year?

A—When you itemize deductions, charitable contributions may be deducted in the tax year they are actually made.

Travel Expense

Q—My company is transferring me to another city and they paid for a preliminary trip for my wife and me to look for a place to live. When I was reimbursed for this trip I noticed that taxes were taken out. Why was that?

A—The amount you received is not classified as a nontaxable reimbursement of moving expenses but as wages. When you actually move to the new location, the cost of transporting you, your immediate family and your household goods may well be a deductible moving expense. The cost of meals and lodging while traveling may also be deductible. If so, any reimbursement you receive would be nontaxable as long as it does not exceed your actual expenses.

Q—I just opened a flower shop and have a truck to handle customer deliveries. Am I liable for the highway use tax?

A—Probably not. The minimum weight for tax purposes is 13,000 pounds for a single unit, two-axled truck. This would include the small panel or step-van trucks used for delivery purposes.

Q—I just graduated from nursing school. Will the cost of my uniforms be deductible for tax purposes?

A—Yes it will. Your shoes may also be deductible too if they are a special type required by hospitals.

The key factor is whether these items are required for your job and are not suitable for wear in place of ordinary clothing.

About Pensions

Q—What's the story on company pensions? I retired last month and got $125 a month from my company plus Social Security. Is this taxable?

A—Social Security benefits are not taxable. As for your company pension, if you did not contribute to the cost of the pension then it will be fully taxable. If you shared the cost of the pension with your employer then it will be only partially taxable.

Our publications, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans," Documents No. 5569, and "Retirement Income and Credit," Document No. 5018, explain in some detail what the tax liability for pensions might be. You will also find details on other tax benefits for taxpayers 65 and over. You can get these publications free by dropping a post card to your local IRS District Director.

Q—I just had to cash in my life insurance policy to take care of some unexpected medical bills. Is the money I received taxable?

A—In most cases where life insurance policies are turned in for their cash surrender value there would be no new taxable income.

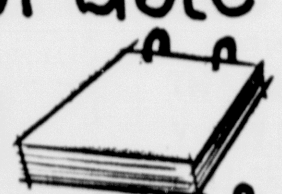

New taxable income would be involved when the cash received exceeds the amount paid in premiums. Then the excess over and above the amount paid in premiums would be taxable.

Ordinary life insurance policies do not usually produce taxable income when they are surrendered. Taxable income is more likely to be realized when a limited payment insurance policy, a 20 payment life policy, for example, is surrendered.

Since you are using the money from your insurance policy for medical expenses make sure to keep a record of them. This will be helpful when you file your return next year?

Button Registers Albany Victory For O'Brien Seat

By JON KAPSTEIN
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Daniel E. Button, a newspaper editor running for his first political office, won a seat in Congress Tuesday in a major setback for one of the nation's oldest and most powerful political machines.

The Republican-Liberal fusion candidate overturned his Democratic opponent, Richard J. Conners, by a margin that could reach 12,000 votes, according to unofficial returns.

Button, who went on leave of absence as executive editor of The Albany Times-Union to make the race, fashioned his victory in the backyard of the Democratic machine that "Uncle Dan" O'Connell has ruled in Albany for about 40 years.

Conners, Albany Common Council president, was selected to run for the seat vacated by retiring Rep. Leo O'Brien, who won in 1964 by better than 2-1.

Button waged a spirited campaign, with the additional support of the reform-minded Albany Independent Movement.
Up until election eve, however, unopposed observers foresaw
another Democratic victory.

The 48-year-old Button, a graduate of the University of Delaware and Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism, also is the author of a book on New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay, another Republican described as liberal.

Conners, 56, an Albany insurance agent, conceded the race in the 29th congressional district shortly after midnight.
He said he had "no regrets and no alibi."

The district covers Albany County and parts of Schenectady and Rensselaer counties.
Button took the district's wards in Troy, won in Schenectady and in suburban and rural cities and towns and sharply slashed the vote margin that Democrats traditionally have enjoyed in Albany.

The 80-year-old O'Connell, often called The Last of the Big-City Bosses, was not available for comment.

world's champion astronaut by logging more time in space than any other human.

The Navy captain's only regret is that the mission is to last
"just four days."

Short for Him Relatively speaking, indeed it will be short — for him. Lovell currently shares the space flight endurance record with Air Force Col. Frank Borman. The two rode Gemini 7 last December for a grueling flight of 330 hours and 35 minutes.

Lovell has as his flying partner this time Air Force Maj.
Edwin E. (Buzz) Aldrin Jr., 36, a rookie at the controls of a ground-based end of the nation's space program.

A former combat pilot, Aldrin holds a doctor's degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), writing his astronautics dissertation on how to rendezvous two satellites in orbit. He is considered an expert in the field.

This puts Aldrin under a little extra pressure when Gemini 12 rocks off a launch pad searching out a rendezvous with an Agena satellite. He wrote about such chases, helped teach them to other astronauts, and now, in essence, it'll be up to him to show he can practice what he preaches.

Third in Class Aldrin graduated third in a class of 475 from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in 1951. After accepting an Air Force commission, he got his wings and went to Korea a few months before hostilities ended there.

He flew 66 combat missions, during which he got credit for shooting down two MIG-15 jets and damaging another. He received the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with two oak leaf clusters.

Aldrin decided to return to college in 1960.

"In looking for a school, MIT looked like the place to go," he said. "May as well shoot for the best. Anyway, my father had gone there and gotten his doctor's degree in aeronautics."

Awarded Doctorate
He was awarded his doctorate in astronautics in 1963, a few months before he became an astronaut.

Nicknamed Buzz by his parents, Aldrin was born in Glen Ridge, N.J., but graduated from high school in Montclair. He stands 5 feet 10, some two inches shorter than Lovell, weighs 165 and has thinning, crew-cut blond hair.

Lovell, who also has blond hair, grew up in Milwaukee, Wis., after being born in Cleveland, Ohio, where he lived only one year.

It was as a teen-ager in Milwaukee that he developed his interest in rockets, though this interest once nearly proved disastrous. He and a friend narrowly escaped injury when one of their small, but volatile homemade rockets exploded on a backyard launching pad.

Lovell graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy, then became an aviator. He applied for an astronaut's job even before the original seven Mercury spacemen were named in 1959 and was among the second group picked in 1962.

Bulgarians Say Ending Bombing Will Bring Peace

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — High officials of Bulgaria's Communist regime seem convinced that a "definitive end" to American bombing of North Viet Nam would bring the Hanoi leaders to the conference table to negotiate peace for all Viet Nam.

The Bulgarian leaders returned from the Communist summit meeting in Moscow with the view that only Red China — and a pro-Chinese minority in the Hanoi regime — benefits from the air attacks.

"The Chinese alone are against peace," one Bulgarian source said. "That is why they secretly hope the raids will continue."

A Bulgarian government spokesman said no American peace offer, however sincere, stands a chance of being taken seriously as long as the bombing, or the threat of it — continues.

Western diplomats said they have received repeated hints that the bombing is now the main obstacle to peace talks.
They said Bulgarian informants indicated after the Moscow meeting that the Communists would no longer insist that the Viet Cong alone should repre-

Homowack Camp Gives to Hospital

A check for $100 has been presented to Ellenville Community Hospital on behalf of the children of The Homowack Lodge Day Camp, it was announced this week by Evald Bors Koefoed, administrator of the voluntary non-profit institution.

Irving Blickstein made the presentation in a letter noting that the check represented funds collected by the children of the day camp under the direction of Mrs.
Edith Seltzer. The children sponsored carnivals and other activities to raise the monies to be "used in any manner befitting
the welfare of the Ellenville Community Hospital."

In announcing receipt of the gift, Koefoed expressed the appreciation of the staff and the Board of the hospital. "We believe that the lesson of charitable giving and the support of voluntary institutions, taught and learned at an early age, is commendable. We appreciate very much the efforts of the Homowack Lodge Day Camp children and its leadership."

The Homowack Lodge Day Camp is a voluntary non-profit institution. It was founded in 1924 and has since that time been operating as a day camp for children of the Ellenville Community Hospital.

The camp is located on the

Today's Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the most fascinating detective stories of the year have spiced business news of late.

One involves an alleged international plot to blow up a bridge needed to transport copper from the landlocked African nation of Zambia, and thus drive up the red metal's price.

The other involves a search for two radioactive capsules of radium that vanished in shipment, forcing federal authorities to hunt for pill-size objects on a continental landscape.

The copper caper was related this week by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Conditions Perfect
Copper prices have fallen recently although a lot of "experts" had bet they would remain high. Demand was great.
Even government officials of some copper producing countries felt high prices would continue.

On the London Metal Exchange, where copper traders meet, a price of 98 3/4 cents a pound was quoted this spring.
By late summer it was one-half that. It is still only 60 cents a pound, meaning a lot of money has been lost.

Speculators purchase "advance" contracts of copper and other metals. That is, they bet on the future of the market. On Nov. 9 they are willing to contract for a supply of copper scheduled for delivery Jan. 1.

On Jan. 1 they hope the price for copper is higher. If it is they can sell their contract at a profit.
If their betting is wrong — if prices fall — they're in trouble.
A copper speculator who invested last spring figured that his control of a tiny share in the wealth of Zambia, the free world's top exporter of copper, would grow in value. It didn't.

Zambian copper prices have not soared, of course. For various reasons — nationalistic, political, industrial, military — the stress on demand lightened.
The bridge is intact.

Search for Radium
The radioactive incident centers on the U.S. Public Health Service. For months its agents have searched for two radium capsules shipped to New York, one from Fort Worth, Tex., he other from Seattle, Wash.

The Fort Worth capsule had been used by an industrial concern, the Seattle radium by a physician. If properly packaged, they should have arrived safely at a chemical company here.

Little question exists about what happened. The packages in which the capsules were contained simply broke open and lost their radioactive cargo.

No trace either was found of the capsule sent from Seattle.
And so, both capsules presumably exist today as deadly dangers. Federal agents now have turned their efforts toward preventing such accidents in the future.

What followed was no casual search. Although the radioactive matter could cause little trouble from brief physical contact, it could cause death if inhaled or swallowed.

Federal officials had little choice. The odds against contamination of an individual were enormous. The chance of finding the vials was even smaller. But, of necessity, the search began.

A device sensitive to radiation was placed aboard a train
running from Dallas, Tex., to Kansas City, Mo. Although it was supposedly capable of detecting any radiation whatever,
it turned up nothing. Other searches also turned up nothing.

No trace either was found of
the capsule sent from Seattle.

trouble from brief physical contact, it could cause death if inhaled or swallowed.

Federal officials had little choice. The odds against con-

were enormous. The chance of finding the vials was even smaller. But, of necessity, the search began.

A device sensitive to radiation was placed aboard a train
running from Dallas, Tex., to Kansas City, Mo. Although it was supposedly capable of detecting any radiation whatever,
it turned up nothing. Other searches also turned up nothing.

No trace either was found of
the capsule sent from Seattle.
And so, both capsules presumably exist today as deadly dangers. Federal agents now have turned their efforts toward preventing such accidents in the future.

What followed was no casual

Percy's Margin Should Impress '68 Ticketmakers

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles H. Percy won a seat in the U.S. Senate from Illinois Tuesday with a showing that should impress GOP national ticketmakers in 1968.

The 47-year-old Republican, defeated in his one other try for public office, bounced back after a two-year wait to unseat Sen. Paul H. Douglas, 74, running for his fourth term.

Percy styles himself a progressive. Two years ago he drew criticism from some Republicans for not backing Barry Goldwater more vigorously in the Arizona senator's fight for the presidency.

It appeared that Percy was victor over Douglas by a plurality of about 300,000.

heavy because she has been made the focal point of both local and national publicity and her picture has been widely distributed without my consent as her legal guardian.

"Commissioner Wyman has authorized me to lift the veil of confidence attached to certain matters, since Mr. and Mrs. Liumi have made public references to the habeas corpus proceeding previously maintained in Ulster County Family Court.

"The department is responsible for selecting homes consistent with the recognized needs of a child. In May 1962 Mr. and Mrs. Michael Liumi requested their home be evaluated for foster care for infants. Subsequently the department approved their home for this purpose. The Liumis were instructed that infants placed in their care could be removed at any given time. In July 1962 the infant concerned was placed in the Liumi foster home. Because of a serious birth defect and legal complications, plans for permanent adoption placement could not be formulated. In December 1964 the legal requirements were met. However the medical consultants informed us a longer waiting period was necessary regarding the birth defect.

"In addition to the medical problem concerning the infant, there was another medical consideration not involving the child, which was of great concern to our medical consultants as well as myself. On this I will not speak publicly.

"In February 1966, our medical consultant concluded that the birth defect, although still visible, had receded to a point where surgery would not be necessary and that the child was available for adoptive placement.

"On February 1, 1966, the child was evaluated by a renowned child psychiatrist who recommended that because of medical considerations involved . . . we suggest that plans for permanent placement be initiated promptly."

"Acting upon this report we advised Mr. Liumi on March 18, 1966 that an adoptive home was available and that the Agency desired to proceed with the adoptive placement, with the cooperation of the Liumis. The request was refused by the board of parents at which time court proceedings were initiated by the Department in the best interests of the child, whose legal custody was with me as Commissioner and concerning whom the Liumis had no legal rights.

"Pending the court appeal taken by the Liumis, the Department will take no further action other than our continuing supervision of the Boarding Home and the continued medical and financial assistance which by law we make to every Boarding Home for the benefit of infants placed therein."

matter of fact

In the 17th century "doughboy" signified "dumpling." During the American Civil War it applied to the brass buttons on uniforms and then to infantrymen. Another explanation of the term as applied to foot soldiers is that infantrymen were said to march in "dough" during wet weather. It was a favorite name for United States soldiers during World War I.

GOP Surge Nets

was kept in the Wallace household when Lurleen Wallace became the nation's first woman governor in 42 years. Standing in for her husband, George C. Wallace, she trounced Republican Rep. James D. Martin in a race between segregationists.

First Florida Shift Since '72

Republican Claude Kirk Jr., a Jacksonville investment banker, put Florida in Republican hands for the first time since 1872, after accusing his Democratic opponent, Mayor Robert King High of Miami, of favoring Negroes.

Winthrop Rockefeller took Arkansas for the GOP for the first time since 1872 by defeating Democrat Jim Johnson, a staunch segregationist.

Republican Spiro T. Agnew won a birthday victory in Maryland — he's 48 today — over Democrat George P. Mahoney, who alienated party liberals by campaigning with the slogan "Your home is your castle — protect it."

New York stayed in Republican hands when Nelson A. Rockefeller won a third term in a four-sided race.

In all, 35 governorships were up for grabs.

Twenty went to the Republicans and 10 to the Democrats.

In the five other races, Republicans were leading in three and Democrats in two.

In Georgia, the race between segregationist Democrat Lester G. Maddox and Republican Rep. Howard (Bo) Callaway was up in the air and might not be decided for some time.

Minnesota and Wyoming also were leaning toward Republicans. Democrats were ahead in Alaska and Hawaii.

Other GOP Victors

Besides Reagan, Romney, the Rockefeller brothers, Kirk and Agnew, the Republican winners were:

—In Arizona, Jack Williams, mayor of Phoenix, over Democratic Gov. Samuel P. Giddard.

—In Colorado, Gov. John A. Love over Democratic Lt. Gov. Robert L. Knous.

—In Idaho, State Sen. Don Samuelson over Democratic State Sen. Cecil Andrus and two other candidates.

—In Massachusetts, Gov. John A. Volpe won re-election, defeating Democrat Edward J. McCormack, nephew of U.S. House Speaker John W. McCormack.

—In Nebraska, newcomer Norbert T. Tiemann over Democratic Lt. Gov. Philip C. Sorenson, brother of Theodore Sorenson, who was a top aide to President John F. Kennedy.

—In Nevada, Lt. Gov. Paul Laxalt, son of a Basque sheepherder, over incumbent Gov. Grant Sawyer, who was making an unprecedented third-term bid.

—In New Mexico, underdog David F. Cargo downed Democrat T. E. (Gene) Lusk.

—In Ohio, Gov. James A. Rhodes over young Toledo Democrat Frazier Reams Jr.

—In Oklahoma, Tulsa oilman Dewey Bartlett bested Preston Moore, former national commander of the American Legion.

Shapp, Chaffee Triumph

—In Oregon, Tom McCall over Robert Straub, Democratic state treasurer.

—In Pennsylvania, Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer over industrialist Milton J. Shapp, maverick Democrat.

—In Rhode Island, Gov. John H. Chafee won a third term by defeating Horace Hobbs.

—In South Dakota, Gov. Nils A. Boe won re-election over Robert Chamberlin.

—In Wisconsin, Gov. Warren P. Knowles won another term, besting Democratic Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey.

Brightening the day a bit for the Democrats were the races in Maine and Kansas.

In Maine, Republican Gov. John H. Reed, who has held the office longer than any man in history since December 1959, was ousted by Democrat Kenneth M. Curtis, aggressive young secretary of state.

In Kansas, George Dockett, a banker, became the first Democratic governor since his father, the late George Dockett, held the office. The loser was Republican Gov. William H. Avery.

President Johnson's political pal, Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, smashed Republican T. E. Kennerly by about 3 to 1.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced modestly in active trading early today.

Also expected to act as a mild stimulant to demand were price increases for farm equipment, potash and high speed steel tools.

Steels, mail order-retails, aircrafts, electronics, nonferrous metals, chemicals, rails and airlines joined in the advance.

Gains of most key issues were fractional but some ran to a point or more.

Eastman Kodak gained more than a point and Du Pont was up more than 2.

Opening blocks included Xerox, up 2 1/4 at 17 1/2 on 4,000 shares; Motorola, up 3 1/4 at 117 1/2 on 3,200 shares; RCA, up 1/4 at 47 1/2 on 7,000 shares, and U.S. Steel, unchanged at 38 1/2 on 3,500 shares.

Monday The Associated Press 60-stock average declined .6 to 294.3.

Callaway Takes Georgia Lead, Still Very Close

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Republican Howard H. (Bo) Callaway surged into the lead early today over Democrat Lester G. Maddox in the Georgia governor's race. But the election remained a cliff-hanger with write-in votes threatening to keep either nominee from winning a required majority.

Maddox slid and Callaway gained in returns from the cities. Possibly holding the balance of victory were the write-in votes for moderate Ellis G. Arnall, who was defeated by segregationist Maddox for the Democratic nomination.

The combined vote of Callaway and Arnall gave them 52.1 per cent as Maddox's majority evaporated in the urban precincts. With more votes uncounted in both the cities and rural counties, it appeared anything could happen—including a victory by Callaway.

More mystery was added by the fact that write-in votes for persons other than Arnall were not being tabulated.

past in traditionally Republican counties upstate.

Rockefeller's margin in many upstate counties was below the usual GOP standard, and he lost the county of Oneida, a conservative holdout of opposition to his tax and fiscal policies.

Below Past Triumphs

The governor's plurality, although respectable, fell below his half-million triumphs of 1958 and 1962. He also wound up as a minority governor, with only 45 per cent of the total vote.

But his victory was impressive, considering that private polls taken less than a year ago indicated that fewer than 25 per cent of New Yorkers approved of his second-term performance.

Rockefeller's popularity skidded after he put through a state sales tax in 1965. He had promised during the 1962 campaign that he would not raise taxes during his second term.

Later he called this "my biggest blunder." He said he was forced to break his promise because revenues did not come up to estimates.

O'Connor made much of the tax issue during his campaign, using as his chief slogan, "You can believe O'Connor."

The campaign also was marked by charges that the millionaire governor had spent exorbitant sums on television and radio advertising and other phases of his re-election campaign. Rockefeller said he had spent $4.3 million, but O'Connor insisted the total actually would exceed $20 million.

Great for 68

The polls had barely closed Tuesday when placards boosting Romney for president appeared in the crowd jammed into Republican election headquarters. Thousands more auto bumper stickers reportedly were distributed reading: Great for '68 — Romney for President.

Romney's third-term election victory — if not the landslide — had been a foregone conclusion.

Hit-Run Case Adjourned

City Judge Hubert H. Richter today adjourned a case until Nov. 21 against a Kingston man for allegedly leaving the scene of an accident. Peter Ferraro, 26, of 46 Sterling Street, was arrested on a warrant Tuesday and accused of striking a car driven by Mrs. Rose Rinaldi, Aug. 20 as it was making a right hand turn into 64 Derrenbacher Street. A passenger in the Rinaldi car, Mrs. Susan Costello, the driver's mother, was reported injured and was treated at Kingston Hospital.

Romney Captures Third Term on Michigan Ballot

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney shattered the fierce opposition of organized labor, captured a third term by landslide and today stepped impressively into the 1968 Republican presidential sweepstakes.

Romney carried into office with him 43-year-old Sen. Robert P. Griffin, the first Republican senator elected in Michigan in 14 years.

Pick Up 4

Also sweeping over Democratic opponents were at least four Republicans in districts lost in the Johnson landslide of 1964 and a major portion of the GOP slate.

The 59-year-old Romney, born in Mexico of Mormon expatriates, crushed labor-backed Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency by more than 444,697 votes, and helped Griffin inflict on former six-term Gov. G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams his first defeat at the polls.

With 4,312 of the state's 5,335 precincts reporting, Romney had 1,243,146 and Ferency 798,449.

Griffin led Williams 1,132,013 to 880,393 with the same number of precincts reporting in the unofficial count.

Q) Though I read your column every day, I've never seen you mention U. S. Smelting. I bought this at 66. Should I sell it? I'm too old to be interested in growth stocks.

A) "Never" is a bit too strong. My last advice on U. S. Smelting—in July 1965—was given to a reader preparing for retirement. At that time I considered the stock unsuited to his circumstances, and I am of the same opinion in your situation. Smelting is a low-yield speculative issue, responding to a variety of impulses within the economy — domestic and foreign.

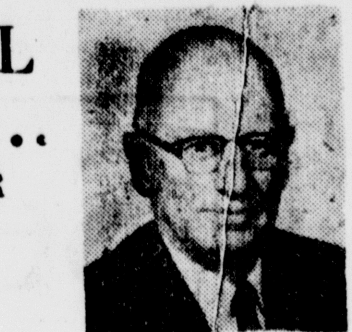

Presently, the company is reporting a sharp upturn in share net for the first half of 1966 to $2.71 from 75 cents a year earlier. Cyclical factors in its nonferrous metal and brass mill products (through 1965 acquisition of Mueller Brass) can cause sharp fluctuations in earnings and wide price swings. I suggest a switch into a good income stock such as Reynolds Tobacco, Atchafalaya & Santa Fe, or C.I.T. Financial.

Q) "A widow of 65. I rely on dividends for my living. Several years ago I bought American Motors at 21. I had hoped for greater improvement in company operations with a change in management. Should I sell my shares now? What is a safe dividend stock for replacement?"

A) I wish I could encourage you to hold American Motors for

Because he opened and drank a can of beer in court in Savannah, Ga., Augustus Lubs was jailed for contempt.

An acquaintance of a man who ran a newsstand in front of a bank tried to borrow five dollars from him.

Mr. Earl (the newsstand man) — It would give me the greatest pleasure to help you out, if it were not for an agreement with the bank.

Mr. Blank (the hard-up person) — I don't follow you.

Mr. Earl (the newsstand man) — Well, it's this way. I agree not to make any loans if the bank will not sell any newspapers. Too bad—but I'm bound!

Instead of a gem, or even a flower, cast the gift of a lovely thought into the heart of a friend.

The grocer had just put a new boy to work, and among the other instructions was this:

Mr. Lee (the grocer)—If you don't happen to have what a customer wants, suggest something else as nearly like it as possible.

Soon a woman came into the store and asked the boy:

Mrs. Gray — Have you any fresh green stuff today?

Joe (the boy)—No, ma'am, but we have some nice bluing.

Someone who is "stuck up" believes he is very important. The term was obtained from the peacock who sticks up his colorful tail to emphasize his importance. Incidentally, only the males are peacocks, and females are peahens.

During a recent California flood, a man borrowed a boat and rowed to town to cash his drought relief check.

Some people believe that the best way to start federal aid to education would be to teach arithmetic in Washington.

An absent-minded grocer called on his old friend, the family doctor, one evening. They chatted for a couple of hours, and as the grocer rose to go, the doctor asked:

Doctor Jones—Family all well, I suppose?

Mr. Bass (the grocer)—Good heavens! That reminds me, My wife's having a fit.

CARNIVAL

By DICK TURNER

An old medical textbook says that happy people have fewer diseases than unhappy people. The moral seems to be that the surly bird catches the germ.

I've forgotten who wrote 'Ivanhoe'.

Second Ditto — I'll tell you if you tell me who the dickens wrote 'The Tale of Two Cities'.

Some people achieve maturity and some just grow older.

WINTER ACTIVITIES CALL FOR SPEECHES PLANNING, PRACTICE MAKE SPEAKER PERFECT

During the fall and winter months, many people are called upon to speak in front of a group. It may be as simple as speaking to neighbors who have gathered to discuss a snow removal problem, or it may be before a women's club meeting with 500 people present. Whatever the occasion, you will be more successful if you plan ahead, and give both speech and presentation considerable thought. Check your knowledge by the following statements. If you answer six of the eight correctly, you will have no worries when you're called on but if you miss more than two, you had better practice some more. The correct answers are found at the end of the column.

1. Your speech should be memorized. True False
2. Is it wise to practice your speech in front of a mirror. True False
3. Your opening paragraph should contain the most important point of your speech. True False
4. Amusing stories distract the audience from the point you wish to make. True False
5. If a microphone is to be used, it is important to practice with one beforehand. True False
6. You should not use gestures for emphasis. True False
7. Your important points should be repeated at least once. True False
8. A brief summary will prepare the audience for the ending. True False

ANSWERS:

1. False. A memorized speech sounds stilted, and also, the speaker is apt to panic if he forgets a line. An outline or notes on cards are sufficient to remind you of your points if you know your material.
2. True. Followed by practice in front of family or friends.
3. False. Better to wait until your audience has settled down to paying attention and you have "warmed up."
4. False. Humor helps to keep the listener's attention.
5. True. Otherwise you may speak too loudly or softly, and also you will be more accustomed to the sound of your voice which is quite different over a "mike."
6. False. But beware of repeating the same one over and over.
7. False. You'll lose your audience's attention.
8. True. It will also fix your important points in their minds.

The regular meeting of Clinton Chapter No. 445, Order of Eastern Star, will be held Friday at Masonic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue at 7:45 p. m.

The Chapter will welcome back Edna Brink, worthy Matron from Grand Chapter Session and her sojourn in the hospital. Slides will also be shown.

A cordial invitation is extended to all members of the Eastern Star and Master Masons to attend. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

GARDEN CLUB COMMITTEE—The Little Gardens Club of Kingston will sponsor an exhibit through Saturday at Artercraft Gallery. The show may be seen from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily.

On the committee for arrangements are (l-r) Mrs. John J. Carroll, president; Mrs. James Shelhorse, co-chairman; and Mrs. George Brown, chairman. (Freeman photo by Wagenfohr)

Named Lecturer For Club Meeting

Frederic Snyder, a native of Kingston and a member of the Kingston Toastmasters, will speak to the Welcome Wagon Club at their next regular meeting November 15 at 8 p. m. in the YWCA. His title is, "A Stranger Only Once."

Mr. Snyder has been a member of the American Platform Association for 35 years. He is the only speaker to win the Toledo Town Hall Award twice. He has addressed Rotary Clubs and conventions in Europe, the Orient and the United States. His definition of Rotary has been translated into several languages.

Mr. Snyder is a well known speaker in the Kingston area. He has addressed local church groups, schools, Toastmasters and other organizations.

A Christmas dinner is being planned for December 14 at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

A group of members recently attended a fashion show at the George Washington School. It was sponsored by the Professional and Business Women's Association of Kingston in conjunction with Sears, Roebuck and Co.

All members are urged to attend this next meeting. Anyone who has received a call from the Welcome Wagon Hostesses is invited to attend.

Field Trip and Meeting

Members of the John Burroughs Natural History Society invite anyone interested to join them on Sunday Nov. 13th at 1:30 p. m. for a walk through the new John Burroughs Wildlife Sanctuary on Black Creek. To reach the meeting place turn west on Floyd Ackert Road, pass the John Burroughs entrance and cross the Black Creek Bridge. Turn left on Valle Road and park. Dr. Fred Adams, an agricultural entomologist of the Cornell Experiment Station at Highland, will be in charge of this nature walk.

The regular meeting of the John Burroughs Natural History Society will be held in the annex of the Kingston City Library (next to the main building) on Wednesday, November 16th at 8 p. m. After the business meeting, Dr. Charles Wurster will speak on a vital subject, "Dutch Elm Disease, DDT and Birds." Dr. Wurster is in the Department of Biological Sciences, State University of New York, at Stony Brook. He has been working in this field of study since 1962 and is at present involved in attempts to stop the use of DDT in mosquito control on Long Island. Articles of Dr. Wurster have been printed in Science and Ecology magazines. This should be a very interesting and informative talk and guests are cordially invited to attend.

Slide Program Will Be Given on 17th In West Park Church

On Thursday evening, Nov. 17 at 8 p. m., Elizabeth Burroughs will present a program of slides in Ascension Parish Hall, West Park. The program will include slides of places in this community both as they look today and as they looked 50 and 60 years ago. This collection of pictures, which has never been shown before, will be of interest to all who know this area.

This program is being sponsored by Ascension Episcopal Church, West Park, in connection with its 125th anniversary which will take place in 1967.

The public is cordially invited to attend. Light refreshments will be served.

Drama and Dance At Bard College

ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON—The Bard Theatre of Drama and Dance will present Ben Jonson's The Alchemist, opening on November 12. The major production of the season, it will run for six days, November 12, 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17, at 8:30 in the Bard Theatre.

The Alchemist is one of the classic comedies of the English-speaking theatre, in every sense of the phrase. It is a robust and uninhibited series of variations of the theme of human greed. A trio of con-men—a cheater, a prostitute and a con-ning butler—in the guise of seven different people lead a greedy group of Londoners into their trap and rob them of all they have.

The alchemist himself is Subtle, played here by two different actors at alternate performances. Harold Stessel and Spencer Mosse. Jeffrey Rochlis is Face, the alchemist's aide, and Blainie Reutchendorf is Dol Common. Leading their victims are James Rosenbaum as Sir Epicure Mammon and John Boylan as Dapper. The Bard production of The Alchemist is directed by William Driver, Professor of Drama.

Tickets are free and seats can be reserved by mailing a self-addressed stamped envelope to Box 70 of Bard College or by calling the Bard Theatre, Monday through Friday between 3:30 and 5:30 p. m.

Wiltwyck Chapter Of DAR Meets Here

The November 7 meeting of the Wiltwyck Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution was held Monday evening in the Chapter House, Mrs. R. R. Empringham, Regent presiding. Initiated and welcomed into membership was Mrs. John F. Burns, 3rd, 148 Henry Street.

Contributions were voted for the Community Chest, Dollars for Defense (a division of the National Defense Committee), and partial payment of the Chapter's assessment toward air-conditioning and refurbishing Constitution Hall.

Mrs. Harry J. Rigby Jr., Chairman Historic Tours reported a total of 20 tours made by 807 people during 1966.

On Friday, December 2, a Naturalization Court will be held at 2 p. m. at the County Court House reported by Mrs. Conrad J. Gross Americanism Chairman. All are welcome to attend.

Attention was called by Mrs. Empringham to the article appearing in the November issue of DAR National Magazine, termed, "The Historic Documents Collection," by Dr. Kenneth Scott of Queens College. Mentioned were the housing, arranging, cataloging and copying of the records of Ulster County from 1658 well into the 19th century. Released by the County Clerk and the Board of Supervisors, these are termed by Dr. Scott the third most important collection of records in Dutch to be found in North America. Fifty rolls of microfilm have been made of these.

Honor guest and speaker for the evening was Mr. Daniel Smiley of Lake Mohonk whose subject, "Conservation Science," dealt with the beauty and wild life of the Shawangunk and Catskill areas, the hopes and methods of their preservation, the destruction done to fruits and vegetables, trees and shrubs by the huge deer population. Mrs. Smiley displayed beautiful color slides which added enjoyment and information. W. Dale Swartzmiller associate of the speaker in the Mid-Hudson-Catskill Museum was a guest also.

Supper hostesses were the Mes. Hollis Burhans, Raymond E. Craft, Walter T. Tremper and Miss Grace Terwilliger.

New Paltz Style Show

YWCA to Observe Fellowship Week Beginning Nov. 13

The Young Women's Christian Association of Kingston will launch its week-long observance of the 1966 World Fellowship Week on Sunday with a special program at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue, from 3 to 4 p. m. Mrs. Othman Abugeta, World Fellowship chairman, announced today.

In observing the week (Nov. 13-19) local members will join with those of YWCA's in 75 countries commemorating the World Fellowship aspect of Association program. The week continues a tradition of over 70 years standing. The worldwide theme is Blessed are the Peacemakers.

Throughout the USA, in more than 5,500 locations where there is YWCA work, members will participate in similar observances highlighting the year-round international program of the association.

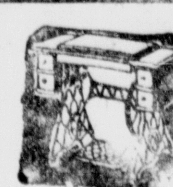

Inaugurating the week nationally will be the annual World Fellowship Observance in The Washington (D.C.) Cathedral on Sunday at 11 a. m. Dr. Albert Cook Cutler, professor of theology at Southern Methodist University, internationally known authority and spokesman for ecumenism, and official observer at the Vatican Council, will deliver the address.

In the gift-bringing ceremony, a highlight of the national event, 50 teenage members of the YWCA representing the 50 states, will present symbolically the contributions of YWCA members and of friends of the Association for work in foreign lands. Also participating will be young women from countries where the YWCA of the U.S.A. contributes advisory service, training assistance and program grants through the Mutual Service program of the World YWCA.

Featuring the local observance will be invocation and remarks by Father Nicholas Katsoulis of the Greek Orthodox Church of Kingston, speeches by Miss Mary Davies, a college sophomore from Poughkeepsie who attended the International Methodist Youth Fellowship Conference in London last year, and Mrs. Lene Bloomer, a Jordanian citizen whose father was Ambassador to musical presentation by Miss June VanDerZee accompanied by Mrs. Helen Ling from Hong Kong. There will be a coffee hour following the program.

KHS Plays at Middletown Saturday in DUSO Grid Feature

Surprise, Surprise

Elect Frank Robinson American League MVP

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Frank Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles, the American League's newly crowned Most Valuable Player, said today the National League has more stars because it has more Negro players.

"I don't think there's that much difference in the leagues," Robinson said. "The superiority the National League is supposed to have is exaggerated. But there are more front-line outstanding players in the National League than the American League."

There are more Negroes in the National League and therefore more outstanding ones," he went on. "That's not all of it. But that definitely has something to do with it."

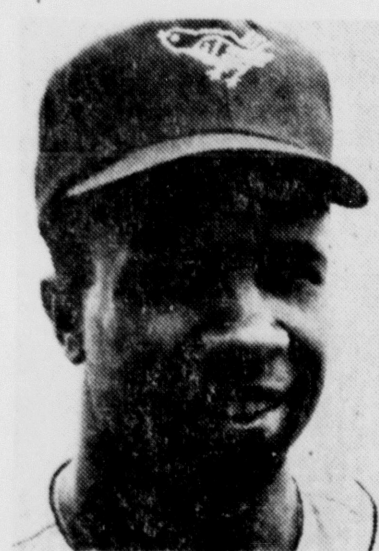

Robinson's frank appraisal came after he had been unanimously voted the MVP award, becoming the first player in baseball history to win the coveted award in both leagues and the second Negro in American League annals.

Elston Howard of the New York Yankees became the first Negro to win it in the American League in 1963. In the National League, which broke the color line when Jackie Robinson joined the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1947, eight Negroes have won the award 12 times in the last 19 years.

Robinson joined such other Negro stars as Willie Mays, Hank Aaron and Roy Campanella in winning the National League award when he was with Cincinnati in 1961.

Something to Remember
"The first one usually is the biggest thrill," Robinson said. "But this award is even bigger than the first one because I've become the first to do it in both leagues. That's something that will be remembered."

The other things to be remembered are:
—Robinson led a 1-2-3 Baltimore sweep in the balloting by the Baseball Writers Association.

FRANK ROBINSON

tion of America, drawing all 20 first-place votes for 280 points to 153 for third baseman Brooks Robinson and 122 for first baseman Boog Powell.

—Robinson became the first unanimous winner in a decade, just as he became the first Triple Crown winner in 10 years, and only the third unanimous winner in the 35-year history of the voting.

Acquired from Cincinnati in December, Robinson led the league in all three major hitting departments with a .316 average, 49 homers and 122 runs batted in.

It was the first time that had been done since Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees did it in 1956. Mantle won the MVP award unanimously that year as did Al Rosen of Cleveland in 1953.

Spartans Rip Frank's, 99-64

Unbeaten Spartan Pools pulled ahead in the second period and walloped Frank's Hunting Lodge, 99-64, in a YMCA Fall League game last night.

Chick Boice and Paul Buyskins paced the winners and they had ample help from Bill Fitzgerald, Don Komosa and Joe Klonowski. Bob VanNess potted 16 points for Frank's.

Injured Players Ready to Return Against Middies

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Having had a week off to get their wounded back into shape, Kingston High players travel to Wilson Field Saturday to meet powerful Middletown in a pivotal DUSO contest. Game time is 1:30 p. m.

After their surprising, 27-6, loss last Saturday at White Plains, the Middies figure to be on the rebound against coach Bill Hurley's Maroon eleven.

The break in the schedule has given the KHS squad a chance to get some of the injured players ready for action. Linebacker Don Cashdollar, guard Tom Walsh and tackle Bill Kidd, all of whom missed the Vincennes contest two weeks ago, are expected to return. Halfback Ken Scherer, who has been on the sick list the past two contests, is a doubtful performer Saturday.

Middletown had a four-game winning streak snapped Saturday at White Plains. After dropping their opener 6-2, to Spring Valley, the Middies rebounded to topple Cardinal Farley, 45-0; Newburgh, 28-20; Mamaroneck, 33-0; and Mt. Pleasant, 38-6.

High Scoring Offense
Coach John Brunner has a potent offense, led by running back Larry Weyant, soph quarterback Paul Hughes and some glue fingered receivers in tight end Bruce Berthoff, back Charlie Aho and split end Charlie Parrella.

Middletown has a massive line, led by the 233-pound Berthoff, 237-pound tackle Howard Broadhead, Jeff Harman, the other tackle who weighs in at 211 and 192-pound guard Tony Gesztes.

Against this huge but slow moving forward wall, the locals will count on the speed of halfback Billy Dugan and fullback Gerard Boggs to get some yardage. Quarterback Pete Watzka, who has had only moderate success as a passer, figures to throw a lot more against Middletown. His chief receivers are ends Jack Baltz and Tim Bowens and halfbacks Dugan and Greg Rios.

Hurley said the squad has been in a good frame of mind during the practice sessions and will go into the game expecting to carve out a victory.

Four Home Wins

Kingston has completed its home season with successive wins over Albany, 18-0; Poughkeepsie, 13-6; Port Jervis, 32-13 and Vincennes, 27-6. Both setbacks were on the road, 12-6, at New Rochelle and 21-6 at Cardinal Farley.

With only four clubs in the DUSO League, a loss practically eliminated a team from pennant consideration.

The circuit test Saturday was Port Jervis playing at Newburgh. The Raiders have already bowed to Kingston while Newburgh was beaten by Middletown.

Tab Irish, Spartans To Score

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Using the back of an old ballot, to figure out the winners of this Saturday's major college football games:

Notre Dame over Duke: The Irish can let Jim Seymour heal another week so that he will be hale for the Nov. 19 go-around with Michigan State.

Michigan State over Indiana: Clint Jones of the Spartans slowly rounding into form for that coming clash of unbeaten with Notre Dame.

Alabama over South Carolina: Paul Dietzel, new South Carolina coach, will wonder why he forsook Army for an afternoon such as this.

Nebraska over Oklahoma State: The Husker attack is ferocious and the defense punishing.

Georgia Tech over Penn State: Tech's Engineers got their fright last week when they barely shipped past Virginia 14-13.

UCLA over Stanford: Simply not enough Stanfords to corral Gary Babin.

Georgia over Auburn: Auburn has come a long way since the start of the season but Georgia has been there since last year because of its defense and a pair of fullbacks. A Georgia victory means at least a tie for the SEC title.

Tennessee over Mississippi: Dewey Warren an able sub for Charley Fulton at quarterback for the Vols.

Purdue over Minnesota: The Gophers have the runners but Purdue's passer, Bob Griese, will get the points easier and quicker.

Florida over Tulane: Steve Spurrier gets the Gators back on the winning track.

Miami over Pittsburgh: The Panthers have little to offer this year.

JUNIOR PROGRAM — Trail Sweepers ski instructor, Joe Shapiro of Kingston, helps a Junior Trail Sweeper to learn the basic snow plow position in an instruction session at Highmont.

Emphasis on Ski Techniques In Sweepers Junior Program

This year's Trail Sweepers Junior Program will concentrate on instruction in ski techniques at weekly sessions on Saturday, 11 a. m. to 1 p. m., at Highmont, Sarah Goffredi, Junior Program chairman for 1966-67, has announced.

There will be race instruction on Sunday afternoon for those interested. A nominal fee will be charged for each racing instruction class.

The key points in this season's program are: The number of members is to be limited to the first 150 applicants on a first come, first-serve basis. Members from last year must also fill out applications. New applicants must be between the ages of 10 and 18.

At least one parent of applicant must be a member of the Trail Sweepers Ski Club. There will be a nominal contribution to the junior program fund at each instruction session. Junior members must provide their own equipment, transportation and lift ticket.

Must Join USEASA
To facilitate functions of the racing program, racers must be members of USEASA and all USEASA dues for juniors should be sent immediately to the club in care of the junior program. Also, all expenses for races, excluding entrance fees, and for racing clinics must be paid in advance of the race. No juniors will be allowed to race in a sanctioned race unless he has joined USEASA before the first sanctioned race.

Juniors are reminded of the Trail Sweepers Dry Land Skiing Clinic on Sunday, Nov. 13, at 1:30 p. m. at Simpson's Ski area in Phenicia. Arrangements have been made with McGrath's Ski Shop in Phenicia for free loan of equipment for those requiring it.

All juniors should also plan to participate in the pre-season conditioning programs held at Williams Lake every Sunday at 2 p. m. under the direction of Peter Martini and John Lounsbury.

The junior program was organized in the 1961-62 season by Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Goffredi of Kingston. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Goffredi.

Dallas Leading In Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — There are days when you just can't believe the statistical tables as the Dallas Cowboys know. Tom Landry's Texans are first in both total offense and defense in the National Football League but second in the all-important won and lost figures.

The Cowboys had led the league in offense going into last Sunday's game at Philadelphia, but they were second in defense. They held the Eagles to a total of 80 yards and assumed the statistical lead but lost the ball game 24-23.

Dallas is first in total offense, pass offense, total defense and running defense. The Cowboys also lead the league in scoring with 289 points.

A pro statistics that doesn't get much attention in the weekly releases, but is vitally important, is the figure on yards lost trying to pass.

Green Bay has smeared the would-be passer 33 times for 264 yards, and St. Louis has creamed the quarterback 31 times for 269 yards.

As might be expected, Baltimore has given its passer the best protection. The Colts' opposition has been able to get John Unitas and Co. only 12 times for 76 yards. The Chicago Bears' passer has been had only 12 times, also, but for 100 yards.

Giants' Pete Case Scheduled To Speak at SHS Grid Banquet

Pete Case, defensive guard of the New York Football Giants, will be guest speaker at the annual football banquet honoring the Saugerties High School football team and coaches.

Sponsored by the Saugerties Jaycees, the event is scheduled Tuesday, Nov. 15, at the Flamingo Restaurant.

The guest speaker is a highly regarded lineman and is a noted after dinner speaker. A graduate of Georgia, Case is playing his fifth season as a pro.

The Giants obtained Case in a 1965 pre-season trade with Philadelphia and he immediately stepped into the vacancy created at left guard when Darrell Doss was dealt to Washington. He was shifted to defense this season and has been invaluable.

Cases was drafted No. 2 by the Eagles in the 1962 draft and he became a regular with Philadelphia in 1964. A bachelor, the 25-year-old Case stands 6-3 and weighs 245. His home during the off-season is in Decatur, Georgia.

Bob Moser, Saugerties Junior High principal, will be toastmaster for the dinner. Bob Schnell, Jaycee committee chairman, said tickets are available at Bosco's Barber Shop, F. C. Smith Hardware, Saugerties Pharmacy, Richard Buono's—Michael's Barber Shop. They will be sold on a first come, first served basis.

Irish Replaced In Total Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston has replaced Notre Dame as the major college football leader in total offense, the latest figures compiled by the NCAA Service Bureau showed today.

The Cougars increased their total yardage to 2,824 for a seven-game average of 403.4 yards while trampling Tulsa 73-14 last Saturday. Notre Dame is second with a 401.4 average followed by UCLA with 392.4.

The Irish took the lead in scoring with a 33.9 points a game average although Houston's output enabled it to move from 11th place to second with a 33.1 mark. Texas Western is third with 33.0.

Harvard remained the pacesetter in rushing for the sixth straight week. The Crimson was averaging 284.9 yards on the ground. Texas Western took over first place in passing average with 270.7. Tulsa, the leader a week ago, slipped to second with 267.3.

State U-Booters In 2-2 Tie

Ventriglia Ends College Career With 78th Goal

EUGENE VENTRIGLIA

Eugene Ventriglia said "good-bye" to the collegiate soccer ranks last night at Oneonta, scoring his 18th goal of the season and the 78th of his star-studded career as the Hawks of New Paltz State deadlocked the home side, 2-2.

Coach Al Miller's booters rallied from a 2-0 deficit to post the tie and finish their season with a 6-4-1 mark.

Elect Tom Gola
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Republican Tom Gola, ex-professional basketball player, was elected to Pennsylvania's State House of Representatives over Democrat Paul L. McSorley Tuesday.

It was Gola's first try at politics after playing for 10 years with the old Philadelphia Warriors and New York Knickerbockers in the National Basketball Association.

Gola, 33, runs his own insurance business.

Holds Chess Lead
HAVANA (AP) — The Soviet Union solidified its hold on first place in the fifth round of the World Chess Olympics Tuesday night with a 3-1 victory over a tough Romanian team.

Yugoslavia, in second, and Argentina and the United States, tied for third, lost a bit of ground but may make up some of it in playoffs of adjourned games Thursday.

After Judd Magrin had tallied in the opening period and Tim Onbima had sent the home side ahead with a second quarter goal, Ventriglia tallied at 15:15 of the period to make it a 2-1 tie at halftime.

In the fourth period, Angelo Targia of the Hawks sent home the equalizer at the 11 minute mark. Though the visitors dominated the rest of the game, they failed to break the tie.

Ventriglia, the All-America ace from Poughkeepsie, will be graduated from New Paltz in January. He leaves behind a record that has been unsurpassed in soccer circles.

Cadet Booters Host Rutgers This Saturday

WEST POINT, N. Y.—Varsity activity at West Point this weekend will be limited to a soccer game Saturday afternoon with Rutgers, but the pace quickens next week when Navy visits the Military Academy for the annual rivalry in both cross country and soccer.

The Cadet cross country squad, just off a third-place finish in the Heptagonals, will have until Monday to rest. They return to New York's Van Cortlandt Park that afternoon for the ICA running, then must look to the big dual with Navy on the 19th. At stake that day will be an unbeaten string which has now reached 21.

Coach Joe Palone's booters will prep for their meeting with the Midshipmen by hosting Rutgers at Clinton Field this Saturday, starting at 2 p. m. Rutgers suffered its first loss of the year last week to Colgate, and will bring an impressive 6-1-1 record to The Plains.

On Hot Streak

Army, on the other hand, has been red hot since dropping back-to-back decisions to Hartwick and Brown. With captain and all-America Joe Casey leading the way, the Cadets have registered consecutive shutouts over Seton Hall, West Chester State and Maryland to hike their seasons' record to 7-2-1.

Much of the focus this weekend will be elsewhere. The 150-pound football team, which has already met and defeated Navy this fall, will be in Philadelphia this Saturday in a crucial Eastern League contest. The lightweight of Coach Eric Tipton, who made it four in a row last week with a win over stubborn Cornell, meet Pennsylvania as they seek to protect their front-running position.

A victory over the Quakers would assure Army of nothing worse than a tie for the league championship, and would set the stage for the season's finale next week at Princeton, Pennsylvania.

Army Will Host AAU Mat Tourney

WEST POINT, N. Y.—Winter will come to the Military Academy a bit prematurely this Saturday when the Army Athletic Association hosts an AAU wrestling tournament in the East Gym. More than 100 wrestlers from the New York-New England area will be competing for top prizes.

The first session will start promptly at 12 noon, and will be followed by an evening session at 6:30 p. m. There will be no admission charge for the afternoon bouts, although a fee of 50 cents will be charged at night.

Army mat coach LeRoy Alitz plans to enter 30 of his wrestlers. Other schools who have submitted entry forms include Cornell, Bloomsburg and East Stroudsburg.

Olympic rules will govern the competition. Each bout will consist of three two-minute periods, with a minute of rest between each period. In case of a draw at the end of regulation time, overtime will prevail.

Wrestling will be contested in nine weight classes — 115, 125, 135, 145, 155, 165, 175, 191 and heavyweight. Medals will be awarded to the first, second and third place winners in each division.

The first Salvation Army lassies in California were Captain Polly Medforth and Captain Mary Matthews.

Expect 100 Teens Will Attend CYO Gotham Parley

The Teenagers and Narcotics; American Heritage — Prayer in Public School; CYO Teenagers Expose Communism in School and Community; Teenagers and Alcohol; Teenagers and God; and The Mod Look—Its Effect on Teenagers are among the many workshop topics proposed by teenagers from all sections of the New York Archdiocese when they assemble at the New York Hilton Hotel, Nov. 25-27 for the fifth annual Catholic Youth Organization Convention.

Nearly 2,000 teenage delegates and representatives, priest moderators and adult advisors will come together for the confab which is being held under the auspices of the Archdiocese of New York in conjunction with the various county CYO Councils of Parish Teen Clubs. The CYO's overall convention theme is Youth Encounters Today's World.

Teenage Delegates, who have been chosen by members of more than 180 parish clubs throughout the Archdiocese of New York will come up with conclusions and resolutions which will be presented to the assembly for ratification.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Philip J. Murphy, Archdiocesan CYO director, pointed out that all of the federation activities such as the convention are designed to aid in the development of personal responsibility and leadership among young people.

The CYO Convention will open with registration at the New York Hilton Hotel. Delegates will come from all ten counties of the Archdiocese. Following the plenary session Saturday morning will be the workshops where the teenagers will discuss significant social questions such as Communism and narcotics.

The highlight of the convention will be Saturday night at the Gold Ticket Banquet and Cotillion. The Most Rev. Terence J. Cooke, DD, Auxiliary Bishop of New York, will represent His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman.

On Sunday morning, an interesting and exciting segment of the convention will be the Archdiocesan election session. It's here that the youngsters will get a chance to put into practice the democratic principles upon which our country was founded. Candidates from all over the Archdiocese will be nominated from the floor. Supporters are expected to campaign enthusiastically and demonstrations will undoubtedly be noisy.

Climaxing the Convention will be the community Mass which will be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Hilton. At the Mass, the newly elected teen-age officers will be sworn into office and will present to Msgr. Murphy, celebrant of the Mass, lighted candles as a pledge to the Church.

On Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock all teen-age delegates to the convention from Ulster County will meet at St. Mary's School in Kingston to make final plans and arrangements for participation at the convention. Ulster will be supporting two of its county officers for election to Archdiocesan offices; Michelle Carroll, Ulster President and Wendell Scherer, county treasurer will be running for vice president and treasurer. Members of the workshop will meet and discuss their topic for the final presentation. All teens interested are urged to attend and make necessary convention registration and hotel reservations.

Astronauts Push

will open the way for the Apollo man-to-the-moon project. The first earth orbit flight of a three-man Apollo ship is scheduled early next year, hopefully leading to a manned lunar landing in 1968.

The four-day flight is to end Monday afternoon with a landing in the Atlantic.

AT REBEKAH HOMECOMING—Bearsville Lodge Hall in Woodstock was the scene of the official homecoming of Mrs. Olive M. Shults, District Deputy President of the Ulster District, and her staff, last week. Members of the staff in attendance at the affair included (seated l-r) Marjorie Harder, Deputy Marshal; Olive M. Shults, District Deputy President; Claudia Haines, Deputy Warden; and Florence Peper, Deputy Secretary. Other staff members (standing l-r) are: Ida Werner, Deputy Outside Guardian; Mae Hung, Deputy Treasurer; Elsie Nicklaus, Deputy Musician; Edna Rowe, Deputy Inside Guardian; and Anna Mae Ostrander, Deputy Chaplain. Brooke Paces...

Peabody. Brooke's triumph, along with some of the other GOP new faces that emerged in the election, is likely to strengthen the party's liberal wing in the Senate.

The two GOP pickups of seats now held by Democrats came in:

Percy, Baker Win

Illinois — where industrialist Charles H. Percy smashed the hopes of veteran Sen. Paul H. Douglas for a fourth term.

Tennessee — where Howard H. Baker, son-in-law of Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, trounced the one-time boy orator, Gov. Frank G. Clement.

Another major Republican victory came in Michigan. Sen. Robert P. Griffin won handily over former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who had gained recognition as the most potent Democratic vote-getter in Michigan history.

All Democratic incumbents in the South turned back Republican challenges, winning in Alabama, South Carolina, Virginia, Mississippi and North Carolina.

But two Southern Republicans — Strom Thurmond in South Carolina and John G. Tower in Texas — also held onto their seats.

Tower's victory was particularly satisfying to the GOP since he fills the Senate post formerly occupied by President Johnson.

Brooke, Percy and Hatfield have taken positions which put them in the moderate to progressive wing of the party. Two GOP veterans who won by stunning margins Tuesday, Clifford P. Case in New Jersey and John Sherman Cooper in Kentucky, also have been in this wing.

And Griffin, named to the Senate last spring to fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, has followed a moderate voting line.

The upshot of Tuesday's voting therefore seems likely to be a Senate which will furnish the same strong margin for welfare legislation provided by its predecessor in the 89th Congress.

Three veteran Democratic senators who head important committees won re-election with little difficulty. They were James O. Eastland of Mississippi, chairman of the Judiciary Committee; Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, chairman of the Space Committee, and Jennings Randolph of West Virginia, who heads the Public Works Committee.

Three Democrats trying for their first full terms after serving the remainder of unexpired terms won election. They were Fred R. Harris in Oklahoma, Thomas J. McIntyre in New Hampshire and Walter F. Mondale in Minnesota.

Mrs. Smith is Winner

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, easily captured a fourth-term bid. She will be the only woman member of the Senate.

Other Republicans who will return are Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, also gaining a fourth term; Gordon Allott of Colorado; Len B. Jordan of Idaho; Jack Miller of Iowa; J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware; James B. Pearson of Kansas and Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska.

Other Democratic victories were scored by B. Everett Jordan of North Carolina; Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island, who won a second term by an overwhelming margin; former Gov. Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina; William B. Spong Jr. and Harry F. Byrd Jr., in Virginia; Lee Metcalf of Montana, and E. L. Bartlett of Alaska.

Members of The Salvation Army call prayer meetings "knee-drill." Instead of dropping money in a plate, they fire a cartridge.

Tenors, Sopranos Needed by Group

Ars Choralis, Woodstock's singing group under the sponsorship of Performing Arts, is currently undergoing an increase in size. According to Ray and Jean White, membership secretaries of the organization, there are a few growing pains.

"We're going to be even better this year," said Ray White. "But it will take more work."

"Ars Choralis is starting to work on new music now," added Jean, who keeps the attendance records. "We would like to see more new tenors and sopranos on our rolls. It's so much easier to learn the music when everyone starts off together. Response to our membership drive has been wonderful, but we seem to be getting more altos and basses this year. And rather than turn people down, we have to find the higher voices to balance the group immediately."

"People could come a few minutes early," said Ray. "Bernard de Surcy, our director, will give them an idea of what the group is like. The chorus meets Monday evenings in the Woodstock School at 8 p. m. We welcome anyone who enjoys music, and if you know a tenor, bring him along."

Attorney Speaks On Making Wills

Woodstock attorney H. Clark Bell will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Lutheran Church Women of Christ's Lutheran Church, Woodstock, Tuesday Nov. 15, at 8 p. m. in the fellowship hall of the church, Mill Hill Road.

The LCW, along with 22 other Protestant denominations, is co-operating in the 1966-67 emphasis on "Wills: A Christian Responsibility." Lawyer Bell will present an informative speech and show two film strips, "What Will You Do?" and "For All You Love," to signify the importance of making a will. He will detail point-by-point how one goes about making a will. At the end of the program, he will also answer any and all questions concerning the general subject of wills.

The public is invited to attend this program.

White Backlash Seen Factor in 4 State Races

NEW YORK (AP) — The white backlash and a counter to a marked shift of Negro voters to moderates on the racial question — figured heavily in the elections in seven states and possibly two others.

In the races in California, Illinois, Florida and Alabama, the backlash appeared to have been a major factor. Three of these were won by Republicans and the other by a Democrat, segregationist Lurleen Wallace, wife of Gov. George C. Wallace.

The backlash was thought to be an element in the overwhelming vote in New York City to abolish the civilian-dominated police complaint review board Civil Rights leaders and the major candidates had supported the review board.

But the "counter-lash" was clearly apparent in Maryland where Republican Spiro T. Agnew won the governorship over Democrat George P. Mahoney who had campaigned on the slogan, "Your home is your castle — protect it."

In Georgia, segregationist Lester G. Maddox fell behind Republican Howard (Bo) Callaway, who had moved toward moderation.

These statistical analyses across the nation were provided by the National Broadcasting Company Electronic Vote Analysis — EVA. EVA compared Tuesday's votes in selected precincts to the vote there in previous elections.

Lane Re-Elected In 100th District As Rival Concedes

Assemblyman Clarence D. Lane retained his 100th State District Assembly seat as his Democratic opponent, Hilary Masters conceded defeat late Tuesday night.

Lane was leading overall in the district by 2,523 votes when Masters conceded. Tabulations from Greene County were not yet in at the time of Masters' concession but Lane is considered very strong in his home county.

The 100th Assembly District includes Greene, Columbia, and portions of Albany and Rensselaer Counties.

In Columbia County Lane polled 10,607 votes to 9,765 for Masters. Excluding Greene County the total vote for Lane was 20,040 against 17,517 for Masters.

Masters scored heavily in the city of Hudson, outpolling Lane, 2,164-1,199.

In conceding, Masters wished Lane "much success" and thanked the young persons who had worked for him on the campaign.

Scores Southerners

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Philip Frank of Birmingham, Ala., commander in chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, told a recent meeting of the United Daughters of Confederacy that his generation had failed in its duty to teach its children the importance of loving their Southern heritage.

Austin B. Grant of Salisbury, England, was the first drummer in The Salvation Army.
